sented to the ECCLESIASTICAL COMMISSIONERS in the Year 1850.”

(Mr. Ridley.)

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,
18 August 1857.

REPORT of LAY SUB-COMMITTEE on the Subject of EPISCOPAL PATRONAGE.

6 & 7 W. 4, c. 77,
s. 1, prop. 40.

THE Act 6 & 7 Will. 4, c. 77, sect. 1, prop. 40, provides, “ That such alterations be made in the apportionment or exchange of ecclesiastical patronage among the several bishops as shall be consistent with the relative magnitude and importance of their dioceses, when newly arranged, and as shall afford an adequate quantity of patronage to the bishops of the new sees.”

The Lay Sub-Committee of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, to which the consideration of the above enactment was referred by the Board, having considered a variety of methods for accomplishing the object, have agreed to the following Report :—

The Sub-Committee feel great difficulty in making any satisfactory estimate of “ the relative magnitude and importance of the several dioceses.” If population alone might be taken as the measure of that magnitude and importance the matter would be clear and simple, but the utility or necessity of possessing patronage depends likewise, to some extent, on the number of the clergy, whether incumbents or curates. There are some dioceses, too, which possess importance of a different kind, bearing upon the question of patronage ; thus the bishopricks of Oxford, Ely, and Durham have each a university of an ecclesiastical character connected with them, and it would appear desirable that on this account they should have a greater amount of patronage assigned to them than if population or the number of diocesan clergy were merely to be considered ; again, the high position in the Church of the bishoprick of Winchester might render it unseemly to cut down its patronage below that of the recently created but more populous bishopricks. These considerations have induced the Sub-Committee to abandon the idea of attempting to form an exact numerical scale measuring the importance of each see, and in lieu thereof to propose a distribution of the bishopricks into four classes, treating those in each class as of equal magnitude and importance one with another. The Sub-Committee have then endeavoured to assign to each bishoprick an amount of patronage, being the same or equivalent, for the bishopricks in each class, but different as respects the different classes.

The archbishopricks and Welsh bishopricks are not included in these classes, as the peculiar circumstances of the former and the difference of language of the latter seem to require that they should be separately considered.

The following is the classification which the Sub-Committee venture to propose :—

* NAME OF BISHOPRICK.	Population.	Number of Benefices within the Diocese.	Number of Clergy within the Diocese.
1st CLASS :
London - - - - -	2,123,051	420	624
2d CLASS :

Ely - - - - -	419,944	540	660
Oxford - - - - -	478,773	650	788

* The population, number of benefices, and number of clergy respectively set opposite to the names of the several bishopricks in this Table are given as, according to the returns, they will be after all the territorial changes under the Acts 6 & 7 Will. 4, c. 77 (Episcopal Act), and 10 & 11 Vict. c. 108 (Manchester Bishoprick Act) shall have been effected.

The Sub-Committee propose to assign the patronage applicable to these sees in the following proportions; viz.—

To the 1st Class	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	9
To the 2d Class	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	6
To the 3d Class	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	5
To the 4th Class	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	4

In order more easily to explain the scheme for the distribution of the episcopal patronage, framed according to the principle above explained, the Sub-Committee have prepared the accompanying Tables, (A.), (B.), (C.), and (D.)

Table (A.) shows the number of livings the patronage of which respectively belongs to each see, and the diocese in which each living is locally situate. The vertical columns will show the present number of livings in the patronage of each bishop, and whether within his own or some other and which diocese; the horizontal, the number of livings in each diocese which are in the patronage of its own or some other and which bishop. The principal diagonal line of figures contains the number of livings which are in the patronage of the bishop in whose diocese they are locally situate. All the rest are situate in one diocese, and the patronage belongs to the bishop of some other diocese.

Table (B.) shows the endowed dignities in the patronage of each archbishop and bishop.

This naturally leads the Sub-Committee to observe on the advantage of the patronage being exercised by the bishop within whose diocese the living is situate. Where this is not the case, if the bishop wishes to reward a deserving minister of his diocese, he loses the advantage of his further aid by giving him a living out of the diocese; and when the living is not such as to render it a reward of merit, and the only object is to find a suitable person to place in it,

4 REPORTS PRESENTED TO ECCLESIASTICAL COMMISSIONERS

the bishop of the diocese where it is situate, who is most likely to know the state of the population and other local circumstances, &c., could more satisfactorily provide for it than any other bishop. In re-arranging the patronage, therefore, the Sub-Committee conceive that it would be right to keep in view, as an important principle, the giving the patronage to the bishop within whose diocese it is locally situate. It is obvious, however, that the principle must not be adhered to so strictly as to prevent the fulfilment of the duty of arranging the patronage according to "the relative magnitude and importance of the dioceses."

Although, therefore, the Sub-Committee feel very reluctant to suggest arrangements which may remove into the patronage of the bishop of diocese (A.) livings locally situate in, and in the patronage of the bishop of, diocese (B.) yet such must be the case in fulfilling the intentions of the Act, in consequence of the locally unequal distribution of episcopal patronage.

With these prefatory explanations and remarks, the Sub-Committee propose to the Board for their consideration a scheme, arranged in Table (C.), which contains the various permutations of patronage requisite or expedient in order to produce the proportional distribution contemplated.

The general results of the scheme will be found in Table (D.)

In proposing the arrangements indicated in Tables (C.) and (D.) the Sub-Committee deem it right to call the attention of the Board to the following points :

1st. That under the new arrangement, the patronage belonging to a large portion of the bishopricks will be confined to the limits of their respective dioceses.

2d. That with respect to the various transfers of patronage which appear to require to be made, they will for the most part be transfers of patronage to the diocese wherein it is locally situate, or transfers of foreign patronage from one diocese to another diocese. There are, however, instances in which it is necessary to transfer to another diocese patronage from the diocese in which it is situate, and to which it belongs. These instances are inevitable as before has been noticed, owing to the great inequality of patronage as at present locally distributed.

Upon this point it may further be remarked, that with respect to the see of London, which, under the proposed arrangement, will have patronage in several different dioceses, the bishop will continue thus to have the opportunity of transferring to rural parishes clergy whose labours in the London parishes may render such a transfer desirable for their personal welfare.

3d. The arrangement is based upon the number of the dignities and livings, but regard has also been had to their annual value.

The annual values of the patronage in each class will be found to approach an average, with some exceptions.

It will be perceived that in London, Durham, Ely, and Oxford, the average is considerably higher than in any of the other sees. Having regard, however, to the special peculiarities of these sees, the inequality appears to be of minor importance.

The proximity of Winchester and Rochester dioceses to the metropolis appear to render the higher average value of their preferment rather advantageous than objectionable.

The other deviations from the average do not seem to require particular notice.

4th. It has been already stated that the proposed modifications relate to the twenty-one English bishopricks.

The Welsh bishopricks will require further consideration; some obviously expedient changes are, however, suggested in Tables (C.) and (D.), and three livings situate in Shropshire, are proposed to be transferred from St.

St. Asaph (which is disproportionately supplied with patronage) to Lichfield, the patronage of which, although not inferior in number, is of less than the average in value.

For a similar purpose it is proposed to transfer two livings in Lancashire from the patronage of Canterbury to that of Manchester, and three in Yorkshire in the diocese of Ripon from York to Ripon.

In order to compensate the sees of Canterbury and York for these transfers it is proposed to transfer from York to Canterbury the patronage of one living in Ely and seven in Lincoln, all in the province of Canterbury, and to transfer to York patronage from the see of Durham of the annual value of 2,600 l.

5th. Subject to that modification, it is not proposed to alter the patronage of the archbishopricks.

It may, however, be convenient to remark, that the patronage of the archbishopricks is, as it ought to be, larger than it would have been had it been regulated by the importance of their sees, considered merely as bishopricks.

In fact their patronage may be regarded partly as episcopal and partly as archiepiscopal.

6th. The proposed modifications and transfers can only be made gradually, inasmuch as some of the bishops (in Table (D.) marked thus (c)), cannot be affected by the Orders in Council under the Act 6 & 7 Will. 4, c. 77. The alterations affecting their patronage can only be carried into effect, either with their consent, or after the next avoidance of their sees.

7th. There are still some territorial exchanges and alterations of boundaries in the dioceses in contemplation, but the Sub-Committee do not consider that the proposed arrangements need be delayed on this account.

REPORT of the EPISCOPAL PATRONAGE COMMITTEE.

Tuesday, 4th June 1850.

Present:

The Earl of Devon.
The Bishop of St. Asaph.
The Bishop of Carlisle.
The Bishop of Oxford.
The Bishop of Ripon.

The Bishop of Salisbury.
The Right Hon. Henry Goulburn.
The Right Hon. H. Hobhouse.
J. G. Shaw Lefevre, Esq.

THE Committee having further considered the matters referred to them, with a view to revising the calculations, submit for adoption by the Board the following principles, on which they conceive that the re-arrangement of episcopal patronage may be based; viz.

1. That the patronage of the archbishops remain unaltered, except as to certain exchanges which it may be found necessary to make.

2. That the relative importance of the sees, which is to be the measure of their patronage, be estimated partly in reference to the population of the respective dioceses, and partly in reference to the number of officiating ministers therein.

3. That the proportionate weight to be given to each of these considerations be two thirds in respect of number of officiating ministers, and one third in respect of population.

4. That the patronage be distributed according to the relative importance of the sees as thus ascertained.

5. That if it be found requisite in this re-arrangement to subtract patronage from the present patronage of any see, extra diocesan patronage be subtracted in all cases where possible.

6. That if it be requisite to add patronage to any see, livings locally situate within the limits of the diocese be first added.

7. That the patronage be so distributed as that both in number of benefices and annual value it shall correspond as nearly as may be with the relative importance of the respective sees, ascertained as above mentioned.

8. That the arrangements with respect to the Welsh bishopricks be considered separately, but that the patronage belonging to Welsh sees locally situated within English dioceses be transferred to English sees, and vice versâ.

9. That it would be desirable to enter into negotiations with the Government for the exchange of livings, with a view to diminishing the number of cases of extra diocesan patronage which may be found to arise from the proposed arrangement when the same shall have been carried into effect.

EPISCOPAL PATRONAGE.

COPIES of the REPORT of the LAY SUB-COMMITTEE on EPISCOPAL PATRONAGE, presented to the ECCLESIASTICAL COMMISSIONERS on the 12th May 1849; and, of the REPORT of the COMMITTEE on EPISCOPAL PATRONAGE, presented to the Ecclesiastical Commissioners in the Year 1850.

(^a) Manchester Township.—The clerk to the guardians states that the Act 18 & 19 Vict. c. 34, authorising the education of the children of out-door paupers, has not been put into operation in the township of Manchester, but a system of education combined without relief in kind to this class of children, which was established some years prior to the passing of that Act, is carried on to a small extent in schools adjoining the workhouses belonging to the township, wherein a weekly average of about 200 children are instructed in reading and writing, daily, for about five hours. The children are required to attend at these schools not later than 9 o'clock in the morning, and to remain thereat until 6 o'clock in the evening, part of the time being spent in recreation, returning at that hour to their respective homes, being supplied during the day with three sufficient meals, the weekly cost of which does not on an average exceed 1s. per head.

The guardians find that this system is productive of very beneficial results to such children, as, whilst they are provided with some learning, they are at the same time morally improved, as well as properly fed, and greater regularity of attendance is ensured than seems likely to be obtained (although their parents may be in the receipt of out-door relief), if sent to school under the provisions of the Act above named.

The guardians are therefore of opinion that if such a system of relief were legalized, so far as refers to populous towns, to which it is more especially applicable, much prospective, as well as immediate benefit, would be conferred upon such children.

(^b) Prestwich Union.—The guardians allow extra relief, in order to afford the parents the opportunity of sending their children to school, and once in three months, the guardians have each child brought before them, together with their books, and a certificate from each school-master as to the attendance and behaviour of each child during that period.

UNIONS.	Number of Children who are now provided with Education by Aid afforded by the Guardians to their Parents, according to the provisions of the Act 18 & 19 Vict. c. 34.	Number of Children who have been Relieved out of the Workhouse, having been deserted by their Parents or surviving Parent, or, being Orphans, have Relief granted by the Guardians for the purposes of Education. Copy CIRCULAR from the Poor Law Board to the Guardians of Unions and Parishes, under the Poor Law Amendment Act.

[Education of Children in Receipt of Out-door Relief.]

Sir,

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, 9 January 1856.

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to bring under the notice of the Guardians the provisions of the statute, passed in the last Session of Parliament, to provide for the education of children in the receipt of out-door relief (18 & 19 Vict. c. 34).

Sect. 1. After reciting that it is expedient that means should be taken to provide education for the young children of poor persons, who are relieved out of the workhouse, proceeds to enact, that the guardians of any union, or any parish in England, wherein the relief is administered by a Board of Guardians, may (if they deem proper) grant relief for the purpose of enabling any poor person lawfully relieved out of the workhouse, to provide education for any child of such person between the ages of 4 and 16, in any school, to be approved of by them, for such time and under such conditions as they shall see fit.

Sect. 2 provides that the Poor Law Board may issue their order to regulate the proceedings of the guardians, with reference to the mode, time, or place, in or at which such relief shall be given or such education received.

Sect. 3 provides that the guardians shall not impose, as a condition of relief, that such education shall be given to any child of the person requiring relief.

Sect. 4 provides for the charge of the cost of this relief, and enacts, that the costs of the relief so given for the education of any such child, shall be charged to the same account as the other relief granted by the said guardians to the same poor person, and may be given and recovered by them as a loan, under the same circumstances and in like manner as such other relief.

Sect. 5 enables the guardians in the case of any child of such age as aforesaid, relieved out of the workhouse, which child has been deserted by its parents, or surviving parent, or both, whose parents are dead, in their discretion and with the like power of regulation on the part of the Poor Law Board, as aforesaid, to grant relief for the purpose of providing education for such child in any such school as aforesaid.

The 6th and last section requires the words used in the Act to be construed as in the 4th & 5th Will. 4, c. 76.

The Board do not propose, at present, to issue any regulations to the guardians by their order; but they think that it may prove convenient if they make a few remarks upon the statute, for the information of the guardians.

The guardians will observe that they are to exercise a discretion as to the granting of this relief, and they are not bound to grant it at all, or to grant it to any pauper, or class of paupers; but, looking to the language of the recital, it is clear that the Legislature contemplated that the guardians would avail themselves, to some considerable extent, of the power conferred upon them by the Act. The Board trust, therefore, that the guardians will endeavour to give full effect to the spirit of the enactment, and not suffer it to be neglected.

It is desirable that they should make known, as generally as possible, their willingness to aid those who are in receipt of relief in obtaining education for their children. This aid is, however, to be treated entirely as relief; it must be given as such to persons receiving other relief, with the like consequences, and under the same conditions. It can only be given in cases where relief is lawfully given out of the workhouse, and for such time only as the same shall be granted; so that, when the relief to the parent ceases, the grant of this aid for the purpose of the child's education must cease likewise.

The guardians will also perceive that there is a limit as to the ages, within which this education may be supplied; namely, between 4 and 16; and that they are to approve of the school wherein the education is to take place. They can also impose such conditions as they shall see fit upon the providing of the education.

The Board are not prepared to prescribe any particular course which the guardians should adopt to satisfy themselves that the school proposed is one of which they can approve; but there are now so many schools established throughout the country, under good and well-defined management, and most of them open to inspection and supervision by competent authorities, that the Board think, that generally the guardians will not find much difficulty in arriving at a proper conclusion on this point.

They must remember, however, that while they have to approve of the school where the pauper's child is to receive education, they are not required to select any particular school for the child, nor to enforce any particular kind of education. Hence it is most essential that they should avoid every act which might be construed to evince a desire on their part to use this authority as a means of interference with the dictates of the religious tenets of the poor persons to whom this relief is to be supplied, or of giving undue preference to any particular school over others.

It

It must also be borne in mind that the parent must be wholly unconstrained in seeking this aid, the Act having expressly provided that the guardians shall not make the providing of the education a condition previous to their grant or continuance of the other relief, and the guardians will not be justified in deducting from the ordinary relief the amount which they may grant for this purpose.

The Act contemplates principally the education of the children of persons in receipt of relief; but as it also provides for orphan children and children deserted by their parents, where such children are not maintained in the workhouse, but are living with relatives or friends, the guardians may take the like means of providing an education for them as for children living with their parents; and in these cases it seems that, as the children are deprived of parental care, the attention of the guardians to this matter will be even more imperatively required than in ordinary cases.

The most important point for the consideration of the guardians, in carrying this Act into operation, will be to determine how to pay this relief. The statute does not require the amount to be paid to the parent; it must be awarded to the parent, and the amount should therefore be entered in the relief order book, and in the application and report book; but there is no need that it should be paid to the parent. The Board think that, in general, this should not be done.

It will generally prove most convenient, that when the guardians shall have agreed to grant the relief for the education of the child, and shall have approved of the school, they should arrange with the trustees, or managers or master, who may receive the payments from the other scholars, for an account to be supplied to the guardians, either at the end of the quarter or of the half-year, and then settle the same, as in the case of other accounts, by an order on their treasurer.

The guardians must require to be satisfied of the due attendance of the child at the school. With this object it may, in many cases, be reasonable to call for the production of the school registers of attendance, and require a given number of attendances to be shown, with respect to pauper children, as the condition of any payment on account of such children, to the managers or master of the school; and the Board also think that the relieving officer might be directed from time to time to give his attention to this subject, and ascertain whether the child is punctual and regular in attendance, or is suffered by its parent to neglect the school.

The guardians of the parish where the child resides may also be requested to exercise a supervision in the case, so as to ascertain that the relief thus granted is not abused.

The Board have made these general observations upon the Act, and will be most ready to consider and to advise upon any matters of practical detail which the guardians may find it necessary to bring under their notice.

I am, &c.

To the Clerk to the Guardians.

W. G. Lumley, Assistant Secretary.

† Extract from explanatory letter, dated 20 August 1853, on the Minute of 2 April 1853, for promoting voluntary assessments towards the expenses of Building Schools in Rural Districts:

"My Lords are aware that a General Assessment and Rate would rarely be possible under a Denominational System of Schools. They are also aware that parochial limitations apply in a very imperfect manner to those Schools which are not connected with the Established Church. They propose, therefore (in the absence of a parochial limit), to take a radius of four miles, in a direct line from the site of the School, as the definition of the district from within which the Local Funds required under this Minute must be raised.

"My Lords will require to have before them the total valuation of the parish or district for the Poor Rate, and the total number of Ratepayers. Their Lordships will also require to see a list of the Subscribers towards the erection of the School, distinguishing owners from occupiers, and setting opposite to the name of each the valuation of the property owned or occupied in the district, as well as the sum subscribed towards the erection of the School. My Lords will expect to find that a reasonable number of the Ratepayers take an interest in promoting the enterprise, and that the ratio of each subscription to the total expense is not wholly disproportionate to that between the valuation of the individual properties and of the whole parish."

BRISTOL.

IN 1613, Robert Redwood gave his lodge to the corporation of Bristol, to be converted into a library, which was done in 1615.

In 1628, Dr. Tobias Matthew, Archbishop of York, gave a number of books, chiefly on theological subjects.

In 1740, the original building having become dilapidated, the library was reconstructed at an expense to the corporation of 1,301 l. 8 s. 1 d.

In 1766, John Heylin gave to the library "all his father's (Dr. Heylin) manuscripts and manuscript sermons, and all his library of printed books, which he judged might be about 1,400."

In 1778, Rev. Alexander Catcott left by will to the library two cabinets of fossils, a few coins, and books.

In 1856, the corporation purchased a building adjoining, and which now forms part of the library; the number of books given to the library as specified above is about 2,000.

They are under the charge of the city librarian, who is paid by the corporation.

The library is open to the public from 10 o'clock in the morning until dusk.

Numerous donations of books have been made to the library during the last 12 months.

Daniel Bruges, Jun., Town Clerk.

GREENOCK.

Sir,

6 June 1857.

I HAVE to inform you that the only collection of books bequeathed for public use in the burgh of Greenock, were those purchased in virtue of a gift by the late James Watt, of Heathfield, the celebrated engineer, who was a native of Greenock.

In the year 1816, Mr. Watt left 100 l. to the town council to be laid out in the purchase of scientific books for the use of the Mathematical School of Greenock, which school is under the management of the town council thereof, along with certain directors of the academy. The whole of this sum was expended in the purchase of books, and in the year 1818, the books so purchased were handed over to the committee of the Greenock public library by the authority of guardians appointed by Mr. Watt, with the consent of the magistrates and council. This transference took place in consequence of the magistrates and council not having a suitable place to put the books for public use.

On the erection of a public building erected by Mr. Watt's son, to contain the statue of his father subscribed for by the public, the books were placed in the building. It is now called the Watt Institution and Public Library.

The Greenock Library or Watt Institution, with which the scientific library presented by Mr. Watt thus became incorporated, is under charge of directors annually chosen, and they charge the expense of the maintenance and keeping of the books to the institution.

There are about 150 volumes of the scientific library, which treat of mathematics and natural philosophy, and they are in the custody and keeping of the committee of the library. The books are accessible to the subscribers of the Watt Library or Institution, and also to the pupils of the Mathematical School on payment of a fee of 1 s. 6 d. per annum, and to the public generally on payment of 2 s. 6 d. per annum.

LONDON.

Sir,

Guildhall, 8 April 1857.

I AM directed to inform you, that the returns required do not apply to the Corporation library, the same being composed of books either purchased by the Corporation, or donations from private individuals, or public bodies, and entirely supported out of the corporate funds; and access to the library can be obtained either by the personal introduction, or card of admission of any member of the Corporation.

I am likewise directed to inform you, that the corporation being desirous of rendering the library more available, are making arrangements for facilitating access to the same for the purpose of consulting works of reference, and for the classification of such books as may be easily replaced in case of loss, to form a circulating library for the use of the members of the Corporation.

With respect to the steps taken for the adoption of the Public Libraries Act, 1855, in the City of London, I am instructed to inform you that the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, at the request of the Court of Common Council, convened a meeting of the ratepayers on the 5th of November 1855, when the resolution in favour of the adoption of the Act was negatived by more than two-thirds of the ratepayers then present, since which time no steps have been taken in the matter.

The Right Hon. Sir G. Grey, Bart.,
&c. &c.

I am, &c.,

NORWICH.

1.—THE Corporation hold a collection of manuscript and printed books called the City Library; some of these books were bequeathed, and others given to the Corporation; the donors amount in number to about 144; their names, with the date of their several benefactions, extending from 1608 to 1754, are to be found in the catalogue of the Norwich Public Library. The precise nature of the several gifts cannot be stated without great research and loss of time.

2.—The Corporation have no such funds.

3.—The number of books and manuscripts belonging to the Corporation are about 2,000 volumes. They are now kept in a Subscription Library, under the care of the librarian of that institution, and are obtained by any citizen upon order signed by the president of the Public Library, and countersigned by the town clerk. These books and manuscripts are about to be deposited in the Free Library.

4.—A rate under these Acts is made periodically for the maintenance of the Free Library, in which such collection is about to be deposited.

PADDINGTON.

IN the month of May 1856, a public meeting was held in this parish (it is not a borough), for the purpose of deciding whether the Free Public Libraries Act should be adopted for the parish of Paddington, and the decision was in the negative.

9 April 1857.

Fredk. Aveling, Vestry Clerk.

PRESTON.

1.—THE Corporation of Preston do not hold in trust any collection of books bequeathed to them for public use, but the mayor and aldermen do by virtue of the trusts of the will of Richard Shepherd, of Preston, Esquire, dated 18th June 1759, by which will he gave and bequeathed all and every his books unto his executors therein named, in trust and for the benefit of the mayor and aldermen of the borough or Corporation of Preston, and he directed that the same should be put in some room belonging to the said Corporation, and that none of the books so given, or any of the books to be thereafter purchased, should be lent or removed from such library, but should always to be there read.

That

That the Mayor for the time being, and all or any of the Aldermen or any person or persons, they or any of them should direct, should have liberty from time to time to read, or inspect, all or any of the books in such library, but not to carry out the same or any of them.

The testator gave 200 l. to the Mayor and Aldermen, the interest whereof was to be paid to the librarian.

And the testator gave the remainder of his personal estate (subject to the life interests of his brothers, who are long since dead) to the Mayor and Aldermen, to lay out the interest thereof yearly in the purchase of books for enlarging and increasing the said library, and other things usually bought for furnishing and fitting-up libraries, and for no other use, intent, or purpose whatsoever.

The library is called Dr. Shepherd's library.

2.—The Mayor and Aldermen are possessed of the said sum of 200 l., the interest of which, 8 l., they pay towards the librarian's salary. The Corporation pay 42 l., the difference to make up the librarian's salary to 50 l. a year.

The residue of the testator's personal estate, with accumulations thereon, now amounts to about 1,200 l. the interest of which the Mayor and Aldermen apply in the purchase of books for enlarging and increasing the library, and other things usually bought for furnishing and fitting up libraries.

The Corporation pay 40 l. a year for the rent of the library.

3.—The number of volumes in the library is about 7,000. The librarian has the charge of the library. The Mayor and Aldermen give free admission to the library, but do not give admission to persons under 15 years of age.

4.—No steps have been taken under the Public Libraries Act of 1850, or of 1855. At the present time the inhabitants of Preston have raised, by voluntary subscriptions, upwards of 2,000 l., and as soon as the sum of 3,000 l. is raised, it is intended to take some steps under the Public Libraries Act.

It is probable that Dr. Shepherd's library may, in some measure, be connected with the Free Library.

RETURN to an Address of the Honourable The House of Commons,
dated 30 June 1857;—for,

“ COPIES of any PETITIONS or MEMORIALS which have been presented to the Secretary of State for the Home Department, complaining of the present System of BURIALS within the METROPOLITAN POLICE DISTRICT: ”

“ And, COPIES of any REPORTS made by Government Inspectors thereon.”

Whitehall, }
9 July 1857. }

W. MASSEY.

COPIES of any PETITIONS or MEMORIALS which have been presented to the Secretary of State for the Home Department, complaining of the present System of BURIALS within the METROPOLITAN DISTRICT, as defined in the Act 15 & 16 Vict. c. 85; and COPIES of the REPORTS made by Government Inspectors thereon.

My Lord,

2, Lancaster-place, Strand, 9 January 1855.

I HAVE the honour to address your Lordship on behalf of the London Necropolis and National Mausoleum Company.

The cemetery of this company was opened for burials on the 13th November last, and since that time daily interments have taken place without complaint from any one, whether of those visiting the cemetery or inhabiting the district near the terminus. On the contrary, great satisfaction has been expressed by numbers of those who have there buried their relatives.

Several parishes have contracted with the company for the burial of paupers; and at your Lordship's desire a space of nine feet by four feet is allotted to each grave; only one coffin is placed therein; and the grave is made six feet deep at the least. The charge for each pauper-funeral, including the above, conveyance of body to Woking, and conveyance and return of two mourners, funeral service, and interment, is only 14s.

Since the opening of the necropolis several parishes have, however, renewed their contracts with suburban cemeteries, which, by adopting the system of pit burial, have been able to perform common interments at a lower price than that charged by this company.

In order to ascertain the system pursued, I have caused several of these cemeteries and burial-grounds to be visited by trustworthy persons, and beg to forward to your Lordship the result.

Keldy's Ground at Bethnal Green Road.—This ground was visited on Sunday last; there were 19 graves opened, 36 funerals ordered, with a probability of 10 or 12 more coming in without notice.

In many cases a space of not five inches was left between the coffins in the different graves.

The gentleman who visited the ground saw six coffins placed in two graves.

These interments took place in ground which had been previously used for burials.

Many of the coffins were left covered with only a few inches of soil, a system technically called in this burial-ground “ bedding up,” being adopted; it appears that this consists in separating the coffins from each other by a few inches of earth only (the earth being previously removed to one side), and when a sufficient number have been deposited, to considerably raise the level of the ground, replacing the earth so as to cover the mass of coffins with soil.

There was no church service on the ground, and the mourners in attendance loudly expressed their disgust and dissatisfaction at the system pursued towards the public.

The state of the ground generally is such that the exhalations are most offensive to those who enter it, and materially decrease the value of house property in the neighbourhood.

St. James'-the-less, Bethnall Green.—This ground was visited on Sunday last. The following is the report :—

“I noticed on the left-hand side of the ground a large hole, where coffins were deposited quite close together, side by side, and the ends of the other coffins exposed to view, and hanging over a foot into the hole. I also noticed, that where a grave was dug six or seven feet the earth from the grave was banked up around three feet above the regular surface of the ground, which was filled with coffins until within a few inches of the surface, and in no instance more than half an inch of earth was placed between the coffins; and in some cases not any.”

Victoria Park Cemetery was visited on Sunday, 7th January 1855. The report is as follows :—

“On looking over the ground I found five graves open, about 10 feet deep (as near as I could calculate without a rule), for the reception of (as the grave-digger told me) upwards of 50 coffins; one was for children, into which I saw them put 18 coffins, and was told it was to receive all that came that day, which would be about 30. I saw four put into each of the graves for adults; and they intended placing one more in each before covering them up, which would bring the top coffin within about 30 inches of the surface. I did not see any of them closed, but at the foot of the child's grave I saw the ends of a number of coffins to within about three feet of the top.

“All funerals seemed to be conducted alike, and the coffins placed in the graves irrespective of class; some that came in a two-horse hearse put into the same grave as those that were brought in cabs.

“I arrived at the cemetery about half-past one o'clock, and left about 20 minutes to five. There were near 20 to arrive at that time.”

Abney Park Cemetery was visited on the 7th January 1855. The following report is made :—

“Common interments on the north side of the cemetery; very damp, blue clay.

“I was informed by the grave-digger that after these graves have been dug several feet deep, that buckets of water have been got out. The general depth, I am informed, is 20 feet, and that 16 or 17 coffins are placed one on another.

“I was eye-witness at grave No. 1,167 in this part of the cemetery, that five adults and one child's coffin were placed one upon another; there was a surface of water on the bottom coffin, which was standing in and surrounded by mud; the cemetery charge for the burial of each of the above, 20 s.

“North-west side: damp, blue clay; the charge for perpetuity 2 l., and 1 s. per year for turf, and extra charge on each occasion for opening the ground; general depth 14 feet deep, to contain about 12 coffins; I noticed water at the bottom of several of these graves.”

In addition to the above, it is stated that the universal practice in the case of common interments at the cemeteries having independent Acts of Parliament, is to adopt the system of pit burial; and even in the case of private graves a space of six inches only is left between the coffins in the contiguous graves.

The adoption of these modes of burial, which economise space and labour at the expense of public decency and the health of the metropolis, makes it difficult for the necropolis company to compete with the suburban cemeteries; the directors of this company therefore humbly direct your Lordship's attention to the above statement of facts, and to the expediency of exercising the powers placed in your Lordship's hands, and of obtaining from Parliament additional authority (when such may be necessary) to put an end to the system of pit burial now prevailing extensively in the suburbs of the metropolis.

I have, &c.

The Viscount Palmerston,
&c. &c. &c.

(signed) William Austin,
Deputy Chairman of the Company.

Sir,

Victoria Park Cemetery, 6 June 1856.

IN reply to your favour, I beg to say that no complaint has been made against the conduct of the cemetery by those residing near, and who are the best able to judge; on the contrary, the neighbours are satisfied that it has been most carefully conducted, and I have reason to hope that my exertions to meet your wishes have met your approval. The requisition to which you refer has been got up by parties distant from the cemetery. It has been, and is, the wish of the proprietors to comply with any suggestion you may make, and they have evidenced this by a considerable expenditure, and the number of interments, as you may observe, is declining.

I have been again instructed to pay every attention to the suggestions you made, as to the quantity of earth between and at the top of each coffin; and I am this morning in receipt of instructions from the proprietor directing me to appoint an officer, whose particular duty it shall be to watch the men, in order that the regulations may be carried out to the letter; it being understood that, in the event of any departure from these regulations, every officer having knowledge of the fact shall be instantly dismissed.

I remain, &c.

METROPOLIS BURIALS.

REPORT on a Letter from the Chairman of the London Necropolis Company.

My Lord,

Whitehall, 23 January 1855.

IN compliance with your Lordship's instruction of the 17th instant, enclosing a letter from the chairman of the London Necropolis and National Mausoleum Company, and directing me to make inquiry into the correctness of his statements respecting the manner of conducting interments in certain burial grounds, I beg respectfully to state that I have inspected the grounds, and that the following is the result:

There are four burial grounds named in the letter—they are

1. Kelday's Ground. This place of interment is better known as the Cambridge Heath and North-East London Cemetery, and is situated in Bethnal Green, not far from Victoria Park. It is under order for closing on October 1st, 1855, and till then interments are confined to one body in a grave, except in family vaults and graves.

I made inquiry separately, of three individuals connected with the ground, as to whether the requirements of the Order in Council were complied with, and they all made the same statement, namely, that the order was observed, except where two children of the same family, or a mother and child were brought for burial together.

There were 15 graves open when I was in the ground. They were all such graves as would hold one body each; but I have little doubt that more than one are buried in such graves as occasion may offer. The practice of burial is apparently not so objectionable as it is in the other grounds complained against, and it will soon be closed.

2. St. James'-the-Less, Bethnal Green, is situated at no great distance from the preceding. An Order in Council, issued on December 6th, 1853, for burying only one body in a grave in this ground. At that time the whole area, about an acre in extent, was untouched, except a small corner, in which were a few graves. The neighbourhood was open, and there were no houses very close to the ground.

I was surprised, on visiting the ground on Saturday last, to find that about one-half of it was already covered with graves. Since the closing of other metropolitan grave yards, there has been an active burial business going on in this churchyard, conducted on the same principles as if the Act of Parliament had never existed. There were 32 open graves when I was in the ground, they were dug purposely to hold four or five adults each, and the children's graves to hold about seven each; and it was admitted frankly by the incumbent, that such was the practice of burial. A contract has moreover been entered into with the guardians of West Ham Union to bury their paupers, and hence the dead of a rural district are brought into the metropolis for burial.

Moreover, no inquiry appears to be made as to where the dead come from, and there is every reason to suppose that the dead of parishes within the metropolis, whose grounds are closed, have been buried in this churchyard contrary to the provisions of the Metropolis Burials Act.

On pointing out to the incumbent this disregard of the Order in Council, and of the Act, he stated that he had heard of a deputation waiting upon your Lordship on some subject, and that the Government had consented to allow the rule of burying one body in a grave to drop tacitly.

The case, as regards this ground, is understated in the chairman's letter. It would be contrary to public health and public decency, as well as to the intentions of the Act, to permit the present practices to be continued.

3. Victoria Park Cemetery. This cemetery is unconsecrated, exempted from the operation of the Metropolis Burials Act. It is situated in Bethnal Green, near St. James' Church. The company to which it belongs contracts with parishes, and they carry on their trade with the usual neglect of health and decency.

I saw a grave open, at the bottom of which lay a pauper coffin without any earth on it. A board or two was placed over the grave until the next coffin should be deposited, and so on until the grave was full. A number of the common graves were ready for the reception of coffins, and each grave, it was admitted, would hold four or five adult coffins. I saw a grave for children, which was six feet long, two feet eight inches wide, and ten feet six inches deep, in which it was admitted that 20 or more coffins, according to size, would be deposited; there was a coffin in this grave without a particle of earth over it.

Children's coffins, it was admitted, were occasionally brought in cabs for burial.

I am of opinion that the statements made in the chairman's letter, about this cemetery, are substantially correct.

4. Abney Park Cemetery, Stoke Newington. This is also an unconsecrated cemetery, and exempted from the operation of the Metropolis Burials Act. The allegation in regard to this ground is correct as to the manner of burial. The surface is tolerably well kept, but underneath it is a mass of corruption in the used part.

I saw a grave open, with two men working at it. I was told it was a common grave, and 17 feet deep. There was water running in upon the bottom of the grave, and one man baled this water into a bucket, which the other drew up and threw over the surface of the ground. This grave, it was stated, would hold seven adult coffins. In the private graves interments take place in the same manner, and being private property, they can be used for any interment with the permission of the proprietor.

In regard to the practice stated in the letter to be followed in the other metropolitan cemeteries, it is the same as the mode of burial practised in Abney Park Cemetery. At the present time, indeed, the only cemetery company which combines in its practice a proper regard for public health and public decency, is the London Necropolis Company. The manner of conducting interments in their cemetery, at Woking, is as commendable as the practice of the other companies is the contrary.

Sir,

4, Old Palace-yard, 26 Nov. 1855.

HAPPENING to hear that very objectionable practices attending burials were permitted at the Victoria Park Cemetery, especially on Sunday afternoons, I took an opportunity, while visiting friends in the neighbourhood, of attending at the cemetery yesterday about 4 p.m., and witnessed scenes there of a very painful nature.

I was informed that about 100 bodies were buried that day, and that frequently a still

a still larger number are buried on one day, but as I did not consider my visit an official one, I did not ask for the exact numbers. I staid on the ground about an hour, and during that short time, saw from 30 to 40 coffins put into graves; I cannot say buried, for nearly all of them were left uncovered while I stayed. The greater part of these were buried in 12 graves. I did not notice any put in any other than one of the 12, but there was such a bustle, that burials I did not notice may have happened. All the graves were very near each other, and as a coffin was brought for burial about every two minutes, or rather less (and on several occasions, as many as six simultaneously), the bustle about the graves was continuous and distressing. How many coffins were placed in a grave, I could not tell. I saw eight in one, all entirely uncovered, and it was evidently intended to put more in it. In all the other open graves, I saw several coffins, in some a great many, placed side by side, and one above the other in immediate contiguity, not even a spadeful of earth between them. I saw in one grave, seven coffins (and it seemed prepared for more), this grave had been dug so close to the next, that the soil had fallen, exposing to view three of the many coffins with which it was filled. This extreme overcrowding of the ground, seems as yet to be chiefly confined to one corner of the cemetery, a space which I estimate at about a rood in extent, the level of which is raised by interments from three to five feet in height. To all appearance, there is in this quarter of the cemetery, one mass of putrefying corruption, consisting of several thousand corpses contained in coffins immediately touching each other, in the same graves, and separated from those in the adjoining graves by a few inches only of soil, which are heaped up upon each other, partly below, partly above the natural level of the ground, and covered by only a few feet of open gravel, forming altogether a flat mound about 40 yards long by 30 broad, and from three to five feet high.

I did not perceive any unpleasant smell, but the day was cold, and the wind fresh. On a calm, warm day, I should expect to find a very offensive odour, for the quantity of putrid gas given off by such a mass of corruption, must be far greater than the soil can absorb or decompose. Standing and moving around and among these graves, were some 200 mourners and spectators, embarrassing by their numbers and want of order, the conduct of the funerals.

I presume the number of persons I saw, is not unusual, and it must sometimes, (I think frequently,) happen that large numbers of persons are exposed to the first emanations arising from the putrefaction beneath their feet; and I regard with great apprehension the consequences which may be reasonably anticipated, if the practice be continued until the hot weather, not to the neighbourhood only, but also to the numerous attendants and mourners. I did not notice any behaviour on the part of either the attendants or spectators that could be fairly blamed, but there was a hastiness about the attendants arising from their small numbers, and the rapidity with which the coffins arrived for burial, and a constant bustle among the crowd, that must have been very distressing to those who came to pay the last honours to their deceased friends; for instance, I noticed a funeral party following to the grave the coffin of a young child, who experienced some little difficulty in making their way through the crowd, and after the coffin had been lowered into the grave, and while the bereaved mother was leaning over to take a last look of that which contained what was so dear to her, one of the men (without waiting even a minute, until the poor woman had left) lowered upon her child's another coffin, and hid it from her sight. In another case, I noticed a funeral party, who had just got into their mourning coach, after seeing the coffin containing what I supposed to be the body of their father; and before the coach moved off, they saw another coffin brought, and lowered upon that of their parent. I saw evident expression of distress at the occurrence.

There is a difficulty in proposing a remedy for these evils, inasmuch as the cemetery is, by the 7th section of the Metropolitan Burial Act, exempt from any Order in Council prohibiting interment in it.

I think it is very probable, however, that the directors are not aware of the full extent of what is being done, and that if they were informed that Sir George Grey's attention has been called to their management, some mitigation of the evil would be likely to be the result.

I beg to submit, that before taking any more decided step, it would be expedient that the cemetery should be again visited, to ascertain that there was nothing exceptional in what I noticed yesterday.

FURTHER REPORT on the Burials at the Victoria Park Cemetery.

Sir,

4, Old Palace Yard, 28 January 1856.

I BEG to acknowledge your letter of November 29th, referring to mine of the 26th, describing the practices then prevailing at the Victoria Park Cemetery, and report to Sir George Grey the result.

I have to report that I visited the cemetery on Sunday afternoon, the 23d of December, and found that funerals were being conducted much in the same manner as on my former visit. I met, on that occasion, the secretary, who informed me that C. S. Butler, Esq., M.P. for the Tower Hamlets, was the chief proprietor, and wished to see me. I consequently called on Mr. Butler, and found that he was very imperfectly acquainted with what was done at the cemetery. He did not know that pit-burial was practised there, and seemed very anxious that no improper practices should be permitted at the cemetery, which is, he informed me, situated amidst his own property; and his own tenants would be the first to suffer from any injury arising from it. Moreover, he would not knowingly be a party to anything calculated to endanger the public health.

Mr. Butler urged, very reasonably, the difficulty of effecting any sudden change, which would render necessary a considerable increase in the cost of burial, before the public cemeteries now being formed are ready for use; and requested time for consultation with the managers of the cemetery, as to what regulations could be adopted calculated to check the evil without very seriously inconveniencing the poor, who chiefly bury at this cemetery.

He further urged that any regulations or restrictions it might be thought necessary to place upon burial at the Victoria Park Cemetery, ought in fairness to be imposed upon the other cemeteries of the metropolis also, at which, he believed, the same mode of burial is the common practice; and I think he is correct in this opinion, but have no direct evidence of the fact.

Mr. Butler has since written to me to say, that instructions have been given that half a yard of earth shall be placed between each coffin, and that no coffin be placed within four feet of the surface. He expects that the number of burials will be considerably diminished; and states that they are already reduced materially by the terms being raised, by the opening of the City of London Cemetery, and by the expected opening of one for the parish of Shoreditch.

It will be observed that the most glaring of the objectionable practices I witnessed (that of piling coffin upon coffin in rapid succession and close contiguity) will be completely remedied if the regulations Mr. Butler announces are observed; and that the risk of injury to the public health will be very considerably reduced, perhaps entirely removed, if, in addition to Mr. Butler's intention of having the surface covered with a growing turf be carried into effect.

I submit whether, considering that this cemetery is exempt, by the 7th sec., from being closed by Order in Council, and that it will in all probability be superseded in a few years by the parochial and other cemeteries now being formed, it would be expedient to attempt to impose any more stringent regulations, especially as its chief proprietor seems sincerely anxious to guard against mischief, as soon as he was aware of its existence. I think, however, it will be expedient that the proceedings at the cemetery should be observed from time to time, lest the regulations made by the proprietors should be disregarded; and perhaps it would be well to ascertain whether Mr. Butler is correct in his opinion, that a mode of burial similar to that I witnessed at the Victoria Cemetery, is customary at the other metropolitan cemetery.

Sir, 4, Old Palace Yard, 3 March 1856.

I BEG to acknowledge your letter of the 1st ultimo, instructing me to take an early opportunity of visiting the Victoria Park Cemetery, to see whether the improvements in its management promised were duly carried into effect, and to inquire into the correctness of the allegation that objectionable practices were adopted at the other metropolitan cemeteries also.

I have to report that I have inspected all these cemeteries, except two, but am only prepared to report as regards the Tower Hamlets Cemetery, the result in the other cases being yet undecided.

I found at the Tower Hamlets Cemetery that "pit-burial" was the practice; that many coffins were placed in one grave, several side by side, and layer upon layer, without any intervening earth, or, at most, only just enough to cover them. While I stayed, I saw five coffins put into one grave, and it was left open for the reception of more. Upon inquiry, I found that the objectionable nature of this practice had been pointed out to the directors by their secretary, who has been newly appointed, and they had already resolved to stop pit-burial; and at an interview I had with them, they resolved in future that the following regulations should be observed:—

1. The directors have determined, that in common interments there shall be one coffin buried at once in each grave, the others placed above, separated by layers of soil, not less than a foot thick; the highest coffin will be four feet below the surface, and that will be covered with growing vegetation; and such graves will not be re-opened within a period of 30 years at the least, and not then unless decomposition is found to be completed.

2. In vaults and brick graves lead coffins are used in accordance with the Act of Incorporation.

3. With respect to other family graves, the directors urge that such are not their property; they would not object to having a layer of earth interposed between each coffin, but do not feel authorised to order that alteration themselves.

Though I do not consider the above regulations as perfectly satisfactory, their observance will guard against the worst of the evils which have been complained of, and they are certainly a very great improvement on the former practices. The area of the cemetery is amply large enough for the probable number of its interments. I hope to be able to convince the directors of the expediency of not having all the common graves together, and of leaving a considerable interval between each; and if that be done, and a layer of earth interposed between the coffins in private as well as common graves, the ground for apprehension will be much lessened.

W. Massey, Esq., M.P.,
&c. &c. &c.

Sir, 4, Old Palace Yard, 8 April 1856.

I HAVE the honour, in reference to your letter of February 1st, instructing me to ascertain the practice as to pit-burial, alleged to be continued at all the metropolitan cemeteries, to report that I have inspected those referred to, and communicated with their managers.

I found that, at three of them, viz., the Tower Hamlets, the Victoria Park, and the Abney Park Cemeteries, the practice was as described, being that of burying a large number of coffins in one grave or pit, in immediate contiguity with each other, without any intervening soil, in some cases, and with only just enough to cover the coffins in others. Since, however, it was known that Sir George Grey's attention had been called to these practices, they have been very considerably modified; and directions have been given, and I believe pretty closely observed, that a layer of earth, about a foot in thickness, shall be interposed between every coffin. That the graves, instead of being made wide enough to contain two large, or four or five small coffins abreast, shall be of the ordinary size, and the system of opening alternate graves adopted.

At the other four cemeteries, namely, Kensal-green, Highgate, Nunhead, and Norwood, I found that the practice, as regards common interments, has been to dig deep graves, and to bury in them one coffin in each at once, which is covered with a layer of earth closely rammed down; then another coffin with its layer of earth; and so on till within five or six feet of the surface, when the grave is filled in and permanently closed, or not to be re-opened, in all probability, for 50 years or more. As to Brompton Cemetery, I have presented a special report; and now regulations, essentially the same as those for new burial-grounds, are, I believe, carefully observed.

The other seven cemeteries are exempted from the operation of the Burial Act; but the managers of them all seem anxious to conduct them, as nearly as they can, without sacrificing the interests of their proprietors, so as to avoid their being causes of public complaint.

The worst evils of the old burial-ground practices are in all these cemeteries, guarded against. In none, it is stated, and I believe truly, are coffins broken, or remains disturbed, while the objectionable and dangerous practice of burying many bodies in one grave has been relieved from its most glaring evil; coffins are no longer packed close together without any intervening soil, and an interval of a few feet is left between the graves.

The managers of the cemeteries contend, indeed, that their present practice is free from fair objection; some of them go so far as to assert that the burial of six or eight coffins at one time in a grave which is not to be re-opened for 50 years or more, is less objectionable as a matter of feeling, and less dangerous to the public health, than re-opening the same grave six or eight times at repeated intervals, to bury one body only at once. This is no doubt true, if the intervals for re-opening are too short to allow of complete decomposition; but if sufficient periods are allowed to elapse, graves may be re-opened, in properly situated burial-grounds, without any danger, and the practice of single interment being that universally followed at all the country churchyards, and very generally in the burial-grounds of towns, may fairly be assumed to be in accordance with the general feeling.

The managers of the London cemeteries assert, that if the soil (which in most of them is a tenacious clay), be carefully rammed down, the bodies are nearly as completely entombed as if enclosed in lead, and the putrefactive gases are so confined that if they escape at all, it is with extreme slowness, and that they are either absorbed by the soil or diffused in the air as they escape, so that no offensive odour is perceptible, and no danger need be apprehended. Without denying the possibility of preventing annoyance by very careful management, I cannot but regard the practice of packing into so small a space as that of one grave, six or eight, and often more putrefying corpses to be hazardous; for unless the earth be in all cases so completely and carefully rammed in as greatly to retard decomposition, by preventing access of air, there will be a production of putrid gas greater than so limited an amount of soil can absorb, which may be injurious to those exposed to its influence, even though not offensive to the senses. Moreover, clay soil cracks when it dries, and sometimes the cracks formed are so deep as to permit gas to escape without, properly speaking, passing through the soil at all. Though careful ramming may prevent this, it is difficult to secure the constant and careful attention necessary.

It is true, these cemeteries are large, and ventilation in them is free; but many of them are largely resorted to, and none of them are remote from houses. Though disturbance of coffins is, I believe, not permitted, it may happen here, as it did happen last autumn at Manchester (Vide Report on St. Wilfred's Burial Ground), that it may be necessary to disinter one of the bodies in a common grave, for the purpose of judicial investigation; in which case there might be a repetition of the shocking scene witnessed at Manchester, from the disturbance of a number of putrefying corpses, in order to obtain the one sought.

Moreover, in some soils it is found that when many bodies are buried in one grave, the putrid gases penetrate the soil to some distance; so that when another grave is dug, the soil removed is offensive, and the grave itself becomes filled with carbonic acid and putrid gas to such a degree, that a candle will not burn in it, and the grave-diggers cannot enter such a grave without waiting for it to be ventilated or using means for its purification. It is asserted that no such thing occurs at the London Cemetery, and I have no direct evidence dence to the contrary, though I have been told indirectly that annoyance has been experienced. I propose, therefore, with your approbation, to repeat my inspection, when the season is more advanced, to ascertain this point with greater certainty, as well as to assure myself that the regulations adopted for the diminution of the evils of pit burial continue to be observed, and that graves are not made in immediate contiguity with those which have been filled up with coffins.

My Lord,

Bethnal Green, 11 November 1856.

INCLOSED is forwarded, for your perusal, the practices continued at the Victoria Park Cemetery; and which is far worse, by accumulation of so great a number of dead bodies in one spot, than when they were dispersed in the various burial-grounds over London. Surely, it never was intended to bury mortality in thousands in a locality so densely populated as this.

I am, &c.

A Ratepayer.

The Right Hon. Sir G. Grey.

Enclosure, a paragraph in "Lloyd's Weekly London Newspaper," copied from the "Daily News."

Sir,

4, Old Palace Yard, 29 November 1856.

I BEG to acknowledge your letter of the 14th instant, transmitting an extract from the "Daily News" relative to the mode of interment practised in the Victoria Park and Abney Park Cemeteries, and requesting me to take an opportunity of again visiting these cemeteries on a Sunday, and to report upon their present state, and the practices alleged to prevail there. In accordance with the above instruction I visited both these cemeteries on Sunday the 16th; the Abney Park Cemetery again on the 20th, the Victoria Park and Tower Hamlets Cemetery again last Sunday, and the latter again last Wednesday. I have also visited the Victoria Park Cemetery repeatedly, especially on Sundays, during the past spring and summer, when convenient opportunities of doing so offered. The results of these repeated, and generally unexpected inspections has been to convince me, that the statement quoted from the "Daily News" is not now fairly applicable either to the Victoria or Abney Park Cemetery. The management of both, of the former especially, having been very much improved since I first inspected it. Coffins are not now, as they used to be, left exposed, each is covered by a layer of earth, which the superintendent and sexton both assure me is never less than a foot, and generally above half a yard in thickness; and on the surface, which used to be bare gravel, a growing vegetation is being gradually established which will absorb much of the products of decomposition. The sexton denies that he ever told anybody, as is asserted in the "Daily News," that there were from 130 to 150 burials on a Sunday, nor are they, he says, half that number. Certainly, I have never seen such numbers buried as I did on the first inspection, when the number was stated to be about 100; the superintendent, however, declines to state the actual number of burials, but it is more than can be safely continued in perpetuity, but will no doubt be greatly diminished as the City of London, and other cemeteries get into use.

At the Abney Park Cemetery the management, which was not so bad, has been much improved. Sunday burials have been stopped, but it is rumoured they are to be resumed; common interments are much diminished in frequency, and the manager asserts that, in every case of such interment, a layer of earth is interposed between the coffins. He also says that the graves are entirely free from water, except in very wet weather, when surface water enters them, but not any from the graves; and it is, he says, never offensive. There was no water in the graves which were open on my visit, but I propose to test the correctness of the above statements by further examination.

At the Tower Hamlets Cemetery the practice of pit burial was abandoned by unanimous resolution of the directors. It was ordered that one coffin only should be buried at once, that each should be covered by a layer of earth, not less than a foot thick; the highest coffin to be four feet below ground, and the surface to be covered with a growing vegetation. I was instructed to visit the cemetery again to satisfy myself that the resolution was observed. It was so at first, but when there on Sunday, the 23d, I found burial going on in the old manner, coffins put one upon the other in immediate contact, or just covered with the least possible quantity of soil; e.g. three spadefuls very carefully sprinkled, so as just to cover the coffin, and not to waste any space. On the 26th I called on the secretary, and received from him the assurance that such breach of the regulation should never occur again, and the explanation that it arose from a sudden pressure of business, for which they were not prepared, and has, he says, happened on two occasions only. From one of the coffins brought for burial I perceived an unpleasant smell, probably the body in it was advanced towards putrefaction, but I could not make any inquiry without exciting unpleasant observation; but offensive smell from bodies brought for burial is often complained of. It is evident that such bodies especially ought to be really interred at once, not merely put into a grave, and left uncovered. This is especially important, when the graves are surrounded by a large concourse of people, as is usually the case in this cemetery on Sunday. On the 23d there were, at least, 500 present. The directors themselves agreed in the propriety of this, which is the least precaution ordinary prudence demands; but even for this there is no permanent security, though I think I shall be able to get it observed for a time. Similar regulations were ordered by their respective directors to be observed in the other cemeteries, namely, those at Nunhead, Highgate, Norwood, and Kensal Green; and were pretty fairly observed when I inquired about them last spring, and I have heard no complaint of them since; but I am not sure that there is no cause of complaint, and intend to take an early opportunity of inquiring concerning them.

Sir,

14, Hanover-street, Hanover-square, W.,
6 March 1857.

UNDERSTANDING the business to which my present application relates must be addressed to you, I beg respectfully to inform you, in consequence of the ground in the church-yard, Brompton, where persons having died of cholera, three years since, were buried, having been disturbed of late for the purpose of fresh interments, many persons who live in the adjacent houses are seriously ill, in my opinion, as their medical attendant, with symptoms which can only be attributed to poison having been imbibed into their systems, and who, after being under treatment for the last 10 days, or longer, will be obliged, it is feared, to remove from their homes (Nos. 27 and 29, Brompton-square, I particularly allude to), before they can recover, or obtain relief. I am informed that 40 burials have taken place at the back of these houses within the last week.

It is to be particularly remarked that each time this spot of ground has been reopened for burials (and this, I believe, is the third time), it has been followed by similar results to the same parties; and it ought also to be mentioned that there is no necessity for disturbing this dangerous piece of ground, since the ground beyond it, and on the opposite side of the church-yard is all fresh, with open space, and no dwellings to be interfered with; consequently without risk of mischief of any kind. Believing you will excuse me in the fulfilment of my duty for thus troubling you, Sir, on so important a matter.

Sir G. Grey, Bart.,

Secretary of State.

I remain, &c.
(signed) Henry Cantis, M.R.C.S., &c.

REPORT on Holy Trinity Church-yard, Brompton.

Sir,

4, Old Palace Yard, 9 March 1857.

I HAVE the honour to state that in accordance with the instructions contained in your letter of the 6th instant, in reference to the statement of Mr. Cantis, respecting the disturbance of the ground in which persons who died of cholera three years since were buried, in the church-yard of Holy Trinity, Brompton, I have inspected the church-yard, and have also had an interview with the incumbent, and the three churchwardens.

Mr. Cantis states that many persons living in Brompton-square, adjacent to the church-yard, are seriously ill, owing, in his opinion, as their medical attendant, to poison imbibed into the system; and that on three occasions, when the particular spot of ground above alluded to had been reopened, similar results had followed.

On inspection I found that the portion of the church-yard in present use lies towards the backs of the houses in Brompton-square; and that the graves recently opened are within a few feet of those graves in which the cholera patients were interred. It appears, however, from the statement of the churchwardens, and the evidence of the sexton, that none of these last named graves have been disturbed.

The general characters of this church-yard are described in Dr. Sutherland's report of the 13th October 1853. The situation, as will be seen on reference to the map, is, for the Metropolis, comparatively open, especially on the north, where there are fields, &c., extending to Kensington Gardens, and on the west, where is the open ground belonging to the Commissioners of the Exhibition of 1851.

The churchwardens state that in the part of the ground lying on the west of the principal footpath, and adjoining the fields, there is at present one acre of unoccupied or maiden earth. Mr. Cantis states there would be no risk of any kind of mischief from the use of this unoccupied portion; and in this opinion I coincide. The church-yard is of large size, comprising $3\frac{1}{2}$ acres, and is of recent date, having been opened in 1829. According to the Order in Council, this churchyard will be closed on the 1st October 1859; until which period, with the exception of family vaults and graves, only one body is to be buried in a grave. The burials in the seven years, 1846-52, were on the average 270 annually. Subsequently, owing to the closure of the burial-grounds of Kensington, of which Brompton forms a part, the burials have increased, amounting in 1854 to upwards of 700; and in 1855 and 1856 to about 550 yearly. In the beginning of the last year, the new burial-ground for the parish of Kensington, situated at Hanwell, was opened, and it is expected that burials in Trinity Church-yard will somewhat decrease.

The amount of ground stated to be unoccupied, will, it may be assumed, suffice for the period intervening between the present time and October 1859. It appears, however, desirable that the portion of the church-yard lying on the east of the footpath at present in use should be forthwith closed; and this step the incumbent and churchwardens state their readiness to adopt. It is also in my opinion desirable, that no burials should take place in the avenue leading from the Brompton road up to the church, and which has not hitherto been used for interment.

I beg respectfully to recommend, that burials be forthwith discontinued, except in now existing private vaults and graves, in the church-yard of Holy Trinity, Brompton, in the parish of Kensington, except in the portion of unoccupied ground on the north of the church, and on the west of the principal footpath; that, with the exception of private vaults and graves, only one body be buried in each grave; and that, from and after the 1st day of October 1859, burials be wholly discontinued.

I have, &c.

W. Massey, Esq., M.P.,
&c. &c. &c.

Sir,

4, Old Palace Yard, 1 June 1857.

I BEG, in reference to your letter of 6 March 1856, instructing me to ascertain, by inspection from time to time, that the regulations set forth in my letter of 3 March 1856 are really enforced at the Tower Hamlets Cemetery, to report that I have repeatedly visited that cemetery, and found that the resolution of the directors that coffins in common graves should be separated from each other by a layer of earth at least a foot thick, was not always observed.

I therefore called upon the chaplain, who is also the manager, and received from him an assurance that the resolution should be in all respects obeyed. Being informed that coffins were habitually buried in immediate contiguity with each other, I yesterday visited the cemetery, and saw the coffins of several children in the same grave laid close together, side by side, and then sprinkled with soil, just enough, but only just enough, to cover them. I saw also several coffins of adults buried; these also were barely covered with soil; care, apparently, being taken to put in no more soil than sufficient to conceal them from view. After seeing one thus barely covered, I asked the man at work if the grave was now ready for another burial; he replied it was, and I have no doubt that other coffins were not afterwards covered with more soil than was put in while I stood by; and it is my belief that the precaution the directors promised to have observed is constantly and systematically neglected. The directors also resolved that the surface above the common graves should be covered with a growing vegetation. This resolution also has been almost entirely neglected; the whole surface is bare gravel, uncovered by vegetable mould, or by a blade of grass; and no attempt, except in a small proportion of cases, seems to have been made by obtaining soil on which grass will grow, or by covering with sods, to secure a growth of plants to absorb the gases of decomposition. The graves are dug 14 feet deep, and the men say, four coffins only are buried in each; but this I am sure is far below the truth, and I suspect they average about 10 coffins in each. The level of the surface of the part occupied by common graves is raised four or five feet by the gravel dug out of the graves, and not returned, the space being occupied with coffins, which shows how numerous the coffins below must be. During my stay funerals succeeded each other with great rapidity; there was a considerable crowd of persons listening about, and though I did not observe that any individually behaved in an unseemly manner, there was an amount of bustle around the graves, which must have been distressing to the mourners, and which much diminished the solemnity of the burial-service. This is one of the unfortunate consequences of burying on Sunday, a practice which induces a great number of funerals at once, and at a time when many persons are at liberty to crowd around anything which attracts their notice.

Sunday funerals have been given up at all the joint stock cemeteries in London, except this. They are continued at the Victoria Park and Woking Cemeteries, and at some of the newly-formed parochial burial-grounds. The directors of this cemetery appeared so willingly to adopt resolutions against crowding the dead in graves without any intervening soil, that I hoped the worst form of pit-burial would be put an end to here. It appears, however, that they are either unable or unwilling to enforce the resolutions which both they and their manager and chaplain authorised me to report should be strictly observed. I beg to enclose a copy of the resolution referred to.

Sir,

I BEG to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 6th inst., accompanied by a copy of Mr. Holland's to Sir George Grey, both of which I have laid before the Board of Directors of this Company. I have to express the great regret I feel that any irregularity as to the mode of interments in this cemetery should have occurred. Such irregularity was neither known to the Board nor to myself. Although I feel responsible for the same, I must be permitted to state that the directors have been compelled to discharge the foreman, whose more immediate duty it was personally to superintend that particular department. I must likewise assign the same reason for the surface above the common graves not being covered with vegetation.

The ground has been levelled for the purpose, and ere this, had it not been for the circumstance named, would have been covered.

A new foreman will be appointed immediately on meeting with a fit and competent person for the situation.

The Board has issued peremptory instructions on both matters, with a view to prevent the recurrence of complaints, and I will endeavour to see them carried out to the satisfaction of Sir George Grey.

CORONERS.

RETURN to an Address of the Honourable The House of Commons,
dated 29 June 1857;—for,

“COPY of a GENERAL ORDER, signed ‘G. J. Williams,’ addressed to the Constabulary of the West Riding of Yorkshire, dated ‘Chief Constable’s Office, Wakefield, April 2, 1857,’ instructing the Police Constables of the County in their Duty with regard to giving NOTICE to CORONERS in Cases of DEATH ; also, of the Name of the Person or Persons by whose Authority the said Order was issued.”

Chief Constable’s Office, Wakefield,
2 July 1857.

Sir,

IN reply to your letter of the 30th June (received this morning), wherein you convey Secretary Sir George Grey’s instructions that I shall prepare a Return agreeable to the Resolution of the House of Commons, dated 29th June, and transmit the same to you with the least possible delay, I have the honour to forward herewith a copy of the General Order referred to, issued by me for the guidance of the West Riding Constables, in consequence of the Resolutions passed at Quarter Sessions, held at Pontefract in April last, directing that the duties connected with Coroners should be performed by the West Riding Constabulary.

I have, &c.
(signed) C. A. Cobbe,
Chief Constable.

The Right Honourable
The Under Secretary of State,
Home Department.

GENERAL ORDER.

Chief Constable’s Office, Wakefield,
21 April 1857.

IN consequence of the duty of calling in and informing the Coroners in cases of death, having been directed by the recent Court of Quarter Sessions, for the West Riding, holden at Pontefract, to be carried out by the West Riding Constabulary, the Chief Constable directs the attention of superintendents, and all members of the force, to the following instructions, which will be (as far as fixed rules, under circumstances where much discretion must be exercised, can be), a guide to the force, in calling in the Coroners to exercise their office.

It has been ruled that inquests are only required in such cases of sudden death as are caused by violence, either known or suspected ; or where it may be reasonably apprehended that the death has been occasioned by criminal conduct or culpable neglect.

The expression, “Cases of sudden death,” where the Coroner should be called in, does not mean such cases as arise from merely natural causes, such as paralysis, apoplexy, heart complaints, fits, or convulsions in infants, or other mere visitations of God; but such only as arise from known or suspected illegal means of destruction, or injury, or culpable negligence.

And as cases may occur, in which, though no very strong evidence of wilful violence may exist, still rumours of a suspicious nature are current, it will then be the duty of the constable to make such inquiry into the particulars and cause of death as may be within his reach; and in the event of any doubt arising in his mind, as to the actual cause of death, as resulting from such inquiry, he is immediately to communicate with the superintendent of his division; or, if that is not practicable, then with his sectional officer, and follow the instructions he may then receive.

The constable, under every circumstance, will record the particulars of each case,—and when information is sent or carried to the Coroner, he will be required to give the fullest information to that officer, both as to the facts and also as to any rumours he may have heard, so as to enable the Coroner to exercise his discretion and judgment, whether he may consider it necessary to hold an inquest or not.

The Coroner should not be called in or informed in cases of mere accidental death, such as death caused by falling from a horse, falling from a scaffold at a building, infants overlaid in bed, and such like, where there is no suspicion of foul play or culpable negligence in other persons, which may have directly or indirectly aided or contributed to cause the accident.

All cases of suicide, or suspected suicide, should be inquired into by the Coroner; as, if the inquiry resulted in a verdict of felo de se (that is, self-murder), the law requires certain ulterior proceedings to be had or taken relating to the interment of the body, and forfeiture of goods of the felon.

If rumours of a suspicious nature shall arise after a body has been interred, it will be the duty of the constable to report the same immediately to his superintendent, or, if that is not practicable, then to his sectional officer, in order that proper inquiry may be made; and if such rumours have any reasonable foundation, information must in that case be given to the Coroner.

Constables must bear in mind that though the Coroner has great discretionary powers, they (the constables) are responsible for giving correct information of facts, and of the existence of rumours; and it is expected that they will exercise their utmost discretion in the performance of the duties they are now called upon to execute.

Superintendents will avoid, as far as possible, correspondence with Coroners on general points, as they will receive such instructions as may be necessary, from time to time, from the Chief Constable.

By Order,
G. J. Williams, Chief Clerk.

EXTRACT of RESOLUTIONS submitted by the Finance Committee, and passed at Pontefract Sessions, holden in April last.

Chief Constable's Office, Wakefield,
2 July 1857.

WITH a view to checking the holding of unnecessary inquests in future, but still without wishing to resort to an illiberal exercise of their discretion in the disallowance of charges, and with a desire not to reduce the moral standard of the persons undertaking the office and duties of Coroner, the committee directed the solicitor for the Riding to prepare a case for the opinion of counsel, as to the general duties of Coroners, and the powers of magistrates with reference to the examination and allowance of their accounts.

The

The opinion of Mr. Robert Hall has accordingly been taken, and the committee are bound to say he has given the subject very full consideration ; and they feel thereby warranted to recommend to the Court of Quarter Sessions, and also to the Coroners of the Riding, that for the future inquests shall, as far as possible, be confined and limited to deaths by violence, and to other cases of death where a reasonable suspicion of criminal conduct or culpable neglect exists ; and that the Magistrates in Quarter Sessions should (as they have the full power to do) disallow the Coroner's fees for holding inquests which appear to them to have been unnecessary. They also recommend to the Court, and to the Coroners, that the services of the West Riding Constabulary be made use of in giving the necessary notices to the Coroner in cases of death, and in summoning of Coroners' juries and witnesses.

Chairman Finance Committee.

OCTOBER 1856 and 1857.

(Mr. Edward Bouverie.)

*Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,

MEMORANDUM AS TO THE WEEKLY RETURNS OF PAUPERISM.

THE Returns of the Number of Paupers relieved on the last day of each Week, do not include the "Lunatic Paupers in Asylums and Licensed Houses;" nor, the number of "Vagrants" relieved. These classes form only a small portion of the entire pauperism of the country. According to the latest Returns (1st January 1857), the former class contained 15,396, and the latter 2,230 persons; together 17,626; or, less than 2·0 per cent. of the total pauperism.

The Pauper Lunatics in Asylums are not generally subject to variations in number, to the same degree, as the other classes of Paupers; and the number of Vagrants relieved by the Unions throughout the country has become too small to need a return so frequently as once a week. These considerations led to the exclusion of the two classes.

There are 14,607 parishes in England and Wales, supporting their own poor: returns of pauperism are received weekly, in respect of 14,320 of that number; 287 parishes, incorporated under Gilbert's Act, or still under the provisions of the 43d Elizabeth, make no return of the number of paupers whom they relieve.

The Returns are arranged under eleven divisions. The Union-counties which fall under each are shown in the following view:

RETURN (A.)—COMPARATIVE STATEMENT OF PAUPERISM.

NOVEMBER 1856 and 1857.

(Mr. Edward Bouverie.)

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,
5 June 1857.

MEMORANDUM AS TO THE WEEKLY RETURNS OF PAUPERISM.

THE Returns of the Number of Paupers relieved on the last day of each Week, do not include the "Lunatic Paupers in Asylums and Licensed Houses;" nor, the number of "Vagrants" relieved. These classes form only a small portion of the entire pauperism of the country. According to the latest Returns (1st January 1857), the former class contained 15,396, and the latter 2,230 persons; together 17,626; or, less than 2·0 per cent. of the total pauperism.

The Pauper Lunatics in Asylums are not generally subject to variations in number, to the same degree, as the other classes of Paupers; and the number of Vagrants relieved by the Unions throughout the country has become too small to need a return so frequently as once a week. These considerations led to the exclusion of the two classes.

There are 14,607 parishes in England and Wales, supporting their own poor: returns of pauperism are received weekly, in respect of 14,320 of that number; 287 parishes, incorporated under Gilbert's Act, or still under the provisions of the 43d Elizabeth, make no return of the number of paupers whom they relieve.

The Returns are arranged under eleven divisions. The Union-counties which fall under each are shown in the following view:

RETURN (A.)—COMPARATIVE STATEMENT OF PAUPERISM.

DECEMBER 1856 and 1857.

(Mr. Edward Bouverie.)

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,
5 June 1857.

MEMORANDUM AS TO THE WEEKLY RETURNS OF PAUPERISM.

THE Returns of the Number of Paupers relieved on the last day of each Week, do not include the "Lunatic Paupers in Asylums and Licensed Houses;" nor, the number of "Vagrants" relieved. These classes form only a small portion of the entire pauperism of the country. According to the latest Returns (1st January 1857), the number contained in these two classes was less than 2·0 per cent. of the total pauperism.

The Pauper Lunatics in Asylums are not generally subject to variations in number, to the same degree, as the other classes of Paupers; and the number of Vagrants, relieved by the Unions throughout the country, has become too small to need a return so frequently as once a week. These considerations led to the exclusion of the two classes.

There are 14,607 parishes in England and Wales, supporting their own poor: returns of pauperism are received weekly, in respect of 14,320 of that number; 287 parishes, incorporated under Gilbert's Act, or still under the provisions of the 43d Elizabeth, make no return of the number of paupers whom they relieve.

The Returns are arranged under eleven divisions. The Union-counties which fall under each are shown in the following view:

INTRODUCTORY MEMORANDUM.

New Arrangement.

THE Statistics of Pauperism now presented to the House of Commons, have, under the directions of the President of the Poor Law Board, been classed, in respect of localities, on the plan adopted for the Census of 1851; and augmented, in respect of subject-matter, by the publication of the Returns of each Union, separately; with the addition of some Industrial Statistics.

Divisions.

It will be seen on reference to the Tables, that the Union-Counties have been arranged in Eleven Divisions, namely—

Division I.—THE METROPOLIS.

II.—SOUTH EASTERN COUNTIES.

III.—SOUTH MIDLAND COUNTIES.

IV.—EASTERN COUNTIES.

V.—SOUTH WESTERN COUNTIES.

VI.—WEST MIDLAND COUNTIES.

VII.—NORTH MIDLAND COUNTIES.

VIII.—NORTH WESTERN COUNTIES.

IX.—YORKSHIRE.

X.—NORTHERN COUNTIES.

XI.—MONMOUTHSHIRE AND WALES.

And, that the Unions have been placed, according to their topographical proximity, under the Union-Counties.

Union-Counties.

The "Union-Counties" are formed by placing together certain Unions, &c., which, in aggregate area and population, most nearly coincide with the Counties proper, that respectively bear the same names. Owing to the fact that the Union boundaries are not conterminous with the boundaries of Counties, it is impossible to make the Union-Counties coincide absolutely in area and population with the ordinary County divisions, but the Union-Counties are now made, as far as possible, co-extensive* with the Registration

* There are 408 parishes, with a total population of 1,324,833, which make no Return to the Poor Law Board. When Returns can be obtained and published for these places, the coincidence of areas will be complete.

tration Counties of the Census; and the Unions themselves correspond to the Registration Districts of the same work. This correspondence of area extends to the Returns published by the Registrar-General.

The Industrial Statistics have been compiled from the information published in the Occupations Abstract of the Census of 1851; which exhibits the various employments of the people under the following Classes; namely—

Classes of Occupations.

Class	I. Persons engaged in the general or local GOVERNMENT of the Country - - - -	65,330
	II. Persons engaged in the DEFENCE of the Country - - - - -	78,498
	III. Persons in the LEARNED PROFESSIONS (with their immediate SUBORDINATES), either filling Public Offices, or in private Practice - - - - -	87,422
	IV. Persons engaged in LITERATURE, the FINE ARTS, and the SCIENCES - - - -	94,790
	V. Persons engaged in the DOMESTIC OFFICES, or DUTIES of WIVES, MOTHERS, Mistresses of Families, CHILDREN, RELATIVES * - - - - -	2,777,017
	VI. Persons engaged in ENTERTAINING, CLOTHING, and performing PERSONAL OFFICES for Man - - - - -	1,620,881
	VII. Persons who BUY or SELL, KEEP, LET, or LEND, Money, Houses, or Goods of VARIOUS KINDS - - - - -	162,265
	VIII. Persons engaged in the CONVEYANCE of Men, Animals, Goods, and Messages - -	252,196
	IX. Persons possessing or working the LAND, and engaged in growing GRAIN, FRUITS, GRASSES, ANIMALS, and other Products - - - - -	1,576,081
	X. Persons engaged about ANIMALS - - - - -	63,506
	XI. Persons engaged in ART and MECHANIC Productions, in which matters of various Kinds are employed IN COMBINATION - - - - -	554,878
	XII. Persons working and dealing in ANIMAL MATTERS - - - - -	419,282

	XIV. Persons working and dealing in MINERALS - - - - -	623,171
	XV. Labourers and others—Branch of Labour undefined - - - - -	290,227
	XVI. Persons of RANK or PROPERTY not returned under any Office or Occupation - -	147,879
	XVII. Persons supported by the community, and of NO SPECIFIED OCCUPATION * - - -	103,453
Other Persons of no stated Occupations or Conditions - - - - -		110,407
TOTAL of Persons, aged 20 and upwards, in England and Wales - - -		9,816,597

These Classes are divided into eighty-seven Sub-classes. The minor details are given, with great fulness, under Class and Sub-class at page cxxviii et seq. in the 1st volume of the Second Part of the Census.

Sub-classes.

The ratios of occupations were computed in this office, to accompany the series to be presented from time to time, under the general title of “Poor Rates and Pauperism.” They were, of necessity, restricted to the adult population; because, the occupations of persons under 20 years of age, have not been published for separate Unions.

Computation of Ratios.

However,

* Classes V. and XVII. include only those of the persons described who are not returned in any of the other classes.

Classes excluded.

However, more than half the population, that is, 9,816,597 persons, are persons aged "20 years and upwards." But this number, is reduced about one-third, by the rejection of Classes I., II., III., IV., V., XV., XVI., and XVII., as seven of these were considered to have very little, if any, bearing on questions of pauperism; and, Class XV., embracing undefined branches of labour, was thrown out by the impossibility of a satisfactory allocation of the numbers therein; a like cause excluded 110,407 "persons of no stated occupations or conditions."

Groups.

The Classes retained have been thrown into four Groups, thus:—

TITLES OF THE GROUPS.	Corresponding Classes in the Census Abstract.	Number of Persons aged 20 Years and upwards in each Group.
(a) Mechanical Arts; Trade and Domestic Service.	Classes VI.; VII.; VIII.; X.; XI.; XII. (Sub-Class 1 only); XIII. (Sub-Classes 1 and 2 only).	3,042,520
(b) Agriculture - - - -	Class IX. - - - -	1,576,081
(c) Manufactures - - - -	Classes XII. (except Sub-Class 1); and XIII. (except Sub-Classes 1 and 2).	819,802
(d) Mining and Mineral Works -	Class XIV. - - - -	623,171

Ratios of the Groups.

These four Groups contain 6,061,574 persons; or 61.8 per cent. of the total adult population. Separately considered, the ratios stand thus—

Group (a).—Mechanical Arts, Trade and Domestic Service - - - } contains 31.0 per cent.

Group (b).—Agriculture - - - contains 16.1 per cent.

Group (c).—Manufactures - - - contains 8.4 per cent.

Group (d).—Mining and Mineral Works - contains 6.3 per cent.

Titles of the Groups.

The Titles briefly express the preponderating characteristics of the Groups; the headings of the tabular columns, necessarily concise, excluding any reference to minor branches of employment. But the following Synopsis, exhibiting the Sub-classes collected into the different Groups, will, it is believed, afford a sufficient account of the numbers and industries discussed in each.

With the view of giving greater clearness to the industrial statistics ; the ratios have, when above the average of their respective Groups, been printed in italics ; but, when at the average, or below it, ordinary figures have been employed.

Average Ratios.

The Groups (a), (c), and (d) containing a great variety of employments, a column for special occupations has been printed, opposite to each Union. In this Column particular branches of industry are named, with references to the Groups ; whenever, the number of persons employed, appeared sufficiently important to require notice. The agricultural Group (b) not being characterised by varieties, to the same extent, required no elucidation beyond the computed ratios. For the sake of brevity, the names of the products, whether wrought or unwrought, are given in this column instead of the names of the occupations, e.g. “copper” for copper-mining ; “silk” for silk manufactures.

Special Occupations.

To save space in printing the Pauper Statistics of each Union, the ordinary returns, given in extenso in Table No. 1, have been reduced under four heads ; namely, 1. Able-bodied ; 2. Not Able-bodied ; 3. Insane ; 4. Vagrants ; at the same time, the distinction of In-door from Out-door Paupers has been preserved.

Union Returns.

The reference numbers to the Union-Counties and Unions are the same as those printed in the Census ; and, employed in the Registrar-general's Returns, place for place ; except, in those instances where the registration districts include two, or more, poor-law unions or parishes. In such cases the Census number has been retained, and the separation into parts marked by a letter added to the original number ; thus, Kensington, which in the Census stands as number 1, is divided into three places for poor-law purposes, and the several parts are marked accordingly ; 1 a.—Kensington. 1 b.—Fulham. 1 c.—Paddington.

Reference numbers.

(Mr. Edward Bouverie.)

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,
5 June 1857.

No. 1.—REMARKS ON RETURN (C.)

Publication of the Return.

THE Returns of "In-maintenance and Out-door Relief," for the half-years ended at Michaelmas and Lady-day respectively, are forwarded to the Poor Law Board, by the Clerks to the Guardians, prior to the audit of the Union accounts; this circumstance enables the Board to publish the information at an earlier period than, otherwise, could be accomplished.

Items of In-Maintenance and Out-Relief.

The sums charged in the Union accounts as "In-maintenance" consist of the cost of food, clothing, and necessaries supplied for the use of Paupers in Workhouses; "Out-door Relief" consists of the value of relief in kind, or in money, given to Paupers, at their own abodes; and also of money (if any) lent to them.

Proportion to the Relief to the Poor.

The total cost of In-maintenance and Out-door Relief is about three-fourths of the entire sum expended for "Relief to the Poor;" the other fourth, of which the details will be published in the Annual Poor Rate Return (Return D.), consists of the cost of maintaining Pauper Lunatics in Asylums; Workhouse Loans repaid, with interest thereon; Salaries and Rations of Officers; and, other charges immediately connected with relief.

Use of this Return as an Index of Pauperism.

As, the expense of In-maintenance and Out-door Relief is entirely made up of disbursements for provisions, clothing, and other necessaries supplied for the personal use of the Paupers, or of relief given to them in money, this expenditure becomes a more certain index of the fluctuations in Pauperism than, the larger amounts given in the Annual Poor Rate Returns as "Relief to the Poor;" because, the additional items of the last-named head are influenced by other causes, besides the increase or decrease of Pauperism.

Expenditure.

The Return now published includes 628 Unions and single Parishes under Boards of Guardians, which, during the half-year ended at Michaelmas 1857, expended for

IN-MAINTENANCE.	OUT-DOOR RELIEF.	TOTAL.
£. 449,056 - - - -	£. 1,448,288 - - - -	£. 1,897,344

The places to which these figures relate, have, according to the Census for 1851, an aggregate population of 16,628,399.

Irremovable Paupers.

The expenditure in respect of Irremovable Paupers can only be shown for 608 of those Unions and Single Parishes; as, 20 Places keep no separate accounts of the relief granted to this class of Paupers.

In these 608 Unions and single Parishes the relief was, for

	IN-MAINTENANCE.	OUT-DOOR RELIEF.	TOTAL.
	£.	£.	£.
Irremovable Paupers - -	67,807	328,710	396,517

TOTAL - - -	403,891	1,389,134	1,793,025

It will be seen that, during the period in question, the cost of relief to Irremovable Paupers was equal to 28·4 per cent. on the cost of relief to the other Paupers.

The following Table is a Comparative Statement of the Expenditure for the three half-years ended at Michaelmas 1855, 1856, and 1857 respectively, in 626 Unions and single Parishes.

State of Employment.

The activity of our trade and manufactures, and, consequently, the extent of employment among the labouring population during the three periods under consideration, are, to a certain extent, indicated by the official Tables of the declared value of the Exports from the United Kingdom.

The amounts for the half-years ended at Michaelmas, were in

Comparative Expenditure in Divisions.

Comparing the expenditure for In-maintenance and Out-door Relief of the Michaelmas half-year, 1857, with that of 1856, it will be found there was a decrease of 77,019*l.*, or 3·9 per cent. ; and it will be seen, by the next Table, that each division of the kingdom exhibited a decrease, excepting only the North Western, which showed the trifling increase of 0·1 per cent.

The Paupers relieved on the 1st July, that is, on a day which falls on the middle of the Michaelmas half-year, are taken as a good representation of the average number relieved during the time which elapses between the 25th March and the 29th September. The next Table, which relates to the same 626 Unions as the Table of Expenditure printed at page 3, exhibits the Pauperism on the 1st of July for the three periods :—

Paupers relieved.

1st day of July	Number of Paupers in receipt of Relief.	Decrease, as compared with 1855.	Decrease per Cent.	Number of Adult Able-bodied Paupers in receipt of Relief.	Decrease, as compared with 1855.	Decrease per Cent.

1857 - - -	784,051	28,543	3·5	119,489	12,776	9·7

Labouring Population.

Judging by the diminution in Pauperism, and, in Expenditure for Relief, it is evident, that the half-year ended at Michaelmas last was, so far as the labouring population were concerned, one of increased prosperity.

New Arrangement.

The following Remarks, explanatory of a new arrangement of the Statistics of Pauperism, are reprinted here from the "Introductory Memorandum" prefixed to Return (B.), No. 77, Sess. 2, 1857.

Statistics of Pauperism.

THE Statistics of Pauperism now presented to the House of Commons, have, under the directions of the President of the Poor Law Board, been classed, in respect of localities, on the plan adopted for the Census of 1851; and augmented, in respect of subject-matter, by the publication of the Returns of each Union, separately; with the addition of some Industrial Statistics.

Divisions.

It will be seen on reference to the Tables, that the Union-Counties have been arranged in Eleven Divisions, namely—

Division I.—THE METROPOLIS.

II.—SOUTH EASTERN COUNTIES.

III.—SOUTH MIDLAND COUNTIES.

IV.—EASTERN COUNTIES.

V.—SOUTH WESTERN COUNTIES.

VI.—WEST MIDLAND COUNTIES.

VII.—NORTH MIDLAND COUNTIES.

VIII.—NORTH WESTERN COUNTIES.

IX.—YORKSHIRE.

X.—NORTHERN COUNTIES.

XI.—MONMOUTHSHIRE AND WALES.

And, that the Unions have been placed, according to their topographical proximity, under the Union-Counties.

Union-Counties.

The "Union-Counties" are formed by placing together certain Unions, &c., which, in aggregate area and population, most nearly coincide with the Counties proper, that respectively bear the same names. Owing to the fact that the Union boundaries are not conterminous with the boundaries of Counties, it is impossible to make the Union-Counties coincide absolutely in area and population with the ordinary County divisions, but the Union-Counties are now made, as far as possible, co-extensive* with the Registration

* There are 408 parishes, with a total population of 1,324,833, which make no Return to the Poor Law Board. When Returns can be obtained and published for these places, the coincidence of areas will be complete.

tration Counties of the Census; and the Unions themselves correspond to the Registration Districts of the same work. This correspondence of area extends to the Returns published by the Registrar-General.

The Industrial Statistics have been compiled from the information published in the Occupations Abstract of the Census of 1851; which exhibits the various employments of the people under the following Classes; namely—

Classes of Occupations.

Class I. Persons engaged in the general or local GOVERNMENT of the Country - - - -	65,330
II. Persons engaged in the DEFENCE of the Country - - - - -	78,498
III. Persons in the LEARNED PROFESSIONS (with their immediate SUBORDINATES), either filling Public Offices, or in private Practice - - - - -	87,422
IV. Persons engaged in LITERATURE, the FINE ARTS, and the SCIENCES - - - -	94,790
V. Persons engaged in the DOMESTIC OFFICES, or DUTIES of WIVES, MOTHERS, Mistresses of Families, CHILDREN, RELATIVES* - - - - -	2,777,017
VI. Persons engaged in ENTERTAINING, CLOTHING, and performing PERSONAL OFFICES for Man - - - - -	1,620,881
VII. Persons who BUY or SELL, KEEP, LET, or LEND, Money, Houses, or Goods of VARIOUS KINDS - - - - -	162,265
VIII. Persons engaged in the CONVEYANCE of Men, Animals, Goods, and Messages - -	252,196
IX. Persons possessing or working the LAND, and engaged in growing GRAIN, FRUITS, GRASSES, ANIMALS, and other Products - - - - -	1,576,081
X. Persons engaged about ANIMALS - - - - -	63,506
XI. Persons engaged in ART and MECHANIC Productions, in which matters of various Kinds are employed IN COMBINATION - - - - -	554,873
XII. Persons working and dealing in ANIMAL MATTERS - - - - -	419,282
XIII. Persons working and dealing in Matters derived from the VEGETABLE KINGDOM -	789,314
XIV. Persons working and dealing in MINERALS - - - - -	623,171
XV. Labourers and others—Branch of Labour undefined - - - - -	290,227
XVI. Persons of RANK or PROPERTY not returned under any Office or Occupation - -	147,879
XVII. Persons supported by the community, and of NO SPECIFIED OCCUPATION* - - -	103,453
Other Persons of no stated Occupations or Conditions - - - - -	110,407
TOTAL of Persons, aged 20 and upwards, in England and Wales - - -	9,816,597

These Classes are divided into eighty-seven Sub-classes. The minor details are given, with great fulness, under Class and Sub-class at page cxxviii et seq. in the 1st volume of the Second Part of the Census.

Sub-classes.

The ratios of occupations were computed in this office, to accompany the series to be presented from time to time, under the general title of "Poor Rates and Pauperism." They were, of necessity, restricted to the adult population; because, the occupations of persons under 20 years of age, have not been published for separate Unions.

Computation of Ratios.

However,

* Classes V. and XVII. include only those of the persons described who are not returned in any of the other classes.

Classes excluded. However, more than half the population, that is, 9,816,597 persons, are persons aged "20 years and upwards." But this number is reduced about one-third, by the rejection of Classes I., II., III., IV., V., XV., XVI., and XVII., as seven of these were considered to have very little, if any, bearing on questions of pauperism; and, Class XV., embracing undefined branches of labour, was thrown out by the impossibility of a satisfactory allocation of the numbers therein; a like cause excluded 110,497 "persons of no stated occupations or conditions."

Groups. The Classes retained have been thrown into four Groups, thus:—

TITLES OF THE GROUPS.	Corresponding Classes in the Census Abstract.	Number of Persons aged 20 Years and upwards in each Group.
(a) Mechanical Arts; Trade and Domestic Service.	Classes VI.; VII.; VIII.; X.; XI.; XII. (Sub-Class 1 only); XIII. (Sub-Classes 1 and 2 only).	3,042,520
(b) Agriculture - - - -	Class IX. - - - -	1,576,081
(c) Manufactures - - - -	Classes XII. (except Sub-Class 1); and XIII. (except Sub-Classes 1 and 2).	819,802
(d) Mining and Mineral Works -	Class XIV. - - - -	623,171

Ratios of the Groups. These four Groups contain 6,061,574 persons; or 61.8 per cent. of the total adult population. Separately considered, the ratios stand thus—

- Group (a).—Mechanical Arts, Trade and Domestic Service - - - } contains 31.0 per cent.
- Group (b).—Agriculture - - - contains 16.1 per cent.
- Group (c).—Manufactures - - - contains 8.4 per cent.
- Group (d).—Mining and Mineral Works - - contains 6.3 per cent.

Titles of the Groups. The Titles briefly express the preponderating characteristics of the Groups; the headings of the tabular columns, necessarily concise, excluding any reference to minor branches of employment. But the following Synopsis, exhibiting the Sub-classes collected into the different Groups, will, it is believed, afford a sufficient account of the numbers and industries discussed in each.

With the view of giving greater clearness to the industrial statistics ; the ratios have, when above the average of their respective Groups, been printed in italics ; but, when at the average, or below it, ordinary figures have been employed.

Average Ratios.

The Groups (a), (c), and (d) containing a great variety of employments, a column for special occupations has been printed, opposite to each Union. In this Column particular branches of industry are named, with references to the Groups ; whenever, the number of persons employed, appeared sufficiently important to require notice. The agricultural Group (b) not being characterised by varieties, to the same extent, required no elucidation beyond the computed ratios. For the sake of brevity, the names of the products, whether wrought or unwrought, are given in this column instead of the names of the occupations, e. g., “copper” for copper-mining ; “silk” for silk manufactures.

Special Occupations.

The reference numbers to the Union-Counties and Unions are the same as those printed in the Census ; and, employed in the Registrar-general’s Returns, place for place ; except, in those instances where the registration districts include two, or more, poor-law unions or parishes. In such cases the Census number has been retained, and the separation into parts marked by a letter added to the original number ; thus, Kensington, which in the Census stands as number 1, is divided into three places for poor-law purposes, and the several parts are marked accordingly ; 1 a.—Kensington. 1 b.—Fulham. 1 c.—Paddington.

COURTENAY,
Secretary.

LETTER from the Directors and Guardians of St. Marylebone to the Poor Law Board.

My Lord,

4 April 1857.

I AM directed by the Board of Guardians to forward to your Lordship the accompanying copy of a Report of a Committee relative to a Report of the Commissioners of Lunacy, the subject of your Lordship's communication of the 17th ultimo (4716 A.)

I am, &c.

(signed) Thos. B. Rae,
Secretary.

Lord Courtenay.

COPY REPORT referred to in the above Letter.

St. Marylebone, 26 March 1857.

AT a Meeting of the Committee, to whom was referred a Report (forwarded by the Poor Law Board) of a visit to the Workhouse made by two of the Lunacy Commissioners on the 29th January last.

Present :—The Rev. Mr. Marks in the Chair ; Messrs. Anderson, Beauchamp.

Report,

THAT your Committee have duly considered the Report of the Commissioners, and inspected the localities, inmates, and patients mentioned therein. With regard to the difficulty experienced by the Commissioners, partly in consequence of there not being an indoor relief book in “the form adopted by the unions under the Poor Law Board, and partly in consequence of a considerable proportion of the persons referred to being scattered throughout the house and associated with the ordinary paupers,”—your Committee find that an indoor relief book is in use, although not in the form under the Poor Law Board ; a form which could not be adopted in this workhouse in consequence of its overcrowded state, and of the want of capabilities of the building for the classification of the inmates. This answer, in the opinion of your Committee, applies with equal force to the observation of the Commissioners that a considerable proportion of the weak-minded inmates were scattered throughout the house, and associated with the ordinary paupers. This, your Committee regret to say, is unavoidable, in consequence of the great want of room. Your Committee, however, venture to think that the Commissioners are in error when they include lunatics among the cases referred to by them, as your Committee were unable to find one instance where this occurred. In answer to the statement, "that the rooms visited by the Commissioners were, without exception, close, ill-furnished, dirty, untidy, and destitute of ordinary comforts," your Committee have to state, that they inspected all the apartments specified in the Report, without having given any previous notice to the officers of the establishment, and in no single instance did they find anything like dirt, untidiness, or want of necessary accommodation for the inmates; on the contrary, nothing could exceed the cleanliness in which your Committee found beds and bedding, together with an abundance of everything requisite for the comfort of the patients; also, that every means had been taken to keep the floors clean and wholesome. Your Committee regret, with the Commissioners, that the rooms should be close, and that they should contain more inmates than can be conveniently accommodated, but this arises only from the cause to which all the difficulties in managing the house may be traced, viz., the want of room; and it is to be hoped that many weeks will not elapse before arrangements will have been completed for the purpose of placing the children (averaging nearly 500 in number), or at least a majority of them, out of the workhouse, when opportunities will be afforded for classification and for increased accommodation of the inmates. Every attempt to effect those improvements at the present time would be hopeless, from the obstacles above mentioned. Impressed, however, with the necessity of removing the afflicted persons referred to in the Commissioners' Report, as being in Canary's female ward, advantage will be cheerfully taken of the recent changes being made in the medical department to close that ward, and to transfer the patients to more healthful and commodious quarters. Touching the statement of the Commissioners, that they had been informed that some of the patients of the ward last mentioned had not been out of it for upwards of a month, your Committee have to remark that they have ascertained that this is owing solely to the unwillingness of the patients themselves to move; exemplified by the fact, that although your Committee tried to induce them, and in one or two instances implored them, to take advantage of the air, the morning being fine, no effect was produced. Your Committee acknowledge with thankfulness the observation of the Commissioners with respect to the want of proper bath accommodation, and would impress in the strongest manner upon the Board the necessity of affording greater facilities in this respect by additional baths on the male and on the female side of the house.

Your Committee feeling, with the Commissioners, that the Rooms 12 A. and 15 B. are by no means suitable for the purpose for which they are used, and the desirability of appointing one or two paid attendants for these wards, earnestly urge the same upon the consideration of the Board.

Your Committee consider that the observations of the Commissioners with respect to restraint upon inmates are well worthy of attention; and they recommend that in future no restraint be used by the wardman or the nurses without a written authorisation for the same from the medical officer, and that the latter be instructed to make an entry, in a book to be kept for that purpose, of each case in which he may think it necessary to order restraint, and that such book be submitted by him to the Board at their weekly meetings.

Your Committee inquired into the case of a nurse, named Mary Lambert, having forced a patient to drink cold water in order to stop her screams, and your Committee, highly disapproving of such conduct, recommend that the said nurse be summoned before the Board, and severely reprimanded; also, that she be informed that instant dismissal will follow the repetition, if such a practice be repeated.

The following are the cases specially referred to in the Report of the Commissioners, together with remarks relative thereto :

MALES.

E. Jenkins	-	-	-	-	Sent to an asylum.
W. Millward	-	-	-	-	ditto.
E. Burkhart	-	-	-	-	ditto.
J. Coomber	-	-	-	-	Now in workhouse.
H. Burleigh	-	-	-	-	Sent to an asylum.

FEMALES.

FEMALES.

Elizabeth Tyrrell - - - - Now in workhouse.
Mary Dyer - - - - Dead.
Caroline Cage - - - - Sent to an asylum.

The following are the numbers of Patients and Inmates now in the workhouse :

	Lunatics.	Imbeciles.	Totals.
Males - - - -	6	24	30
Females - - - -	10	19	29

No subject has been before the Board oftener than the want of ventilation, and your Committee are fully impressed with the fact that any attempt made to remedy it at the present moment must be of a temporary and imperfect character ; but they confidently hope that, when the arrangements for the removal of the schools shall have been completed, the subject will occupy the earliest attention of the Board, and that the ventilation will be made as complete and as efficient as possible.

In conclusion, your Committee would draw attention to the fact that the Commissioners of Lunacy, like all those who have seriously considered the matter, look to the one and same method for affording increased accommodation, viz., by removing the children from the workhouse ; and your Committee will feel great satisfaction if the circumstances out of which this Report has grown shall in any way have tended to hasten the accomplishment of withdrawing from the overcrowded wards the infantine members. Until this be brought about it will be in vain to debate alterations on any extensive scale, which cannot possibly be carried into effect until this one great and absorbing evil shall have ceased to operate.

Chairman.

MR. RICHARD HALL.

RETURN to an Order of the Honourable The House of Commons,
dated 9 July 1857;—for,

COPIES “of all CORRESPONDENCE between Mr. Richard Hall and the Poor Law Commissioners, relating to his Retirement and Superannuation:”

“And, of all CORRESPONDENCE between the Poor Law Commissioners and the Treasury on the same Subject.”

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, }
6 August 1857.

R. W. Grey,
Secretary.

LETTER from Richard Hall, Esq., to the Poor Law Board.

My Lord,

92, Eaton Place, 2 December 1856.

I FEEL it to be my painful duty to request that your Lordship will be so good as to lay before the Poor Law Board, my resignation of the office of Poor Law Inspector, which I have held for nearly 22 years.

The impaired state of my health compels me to this step, which I take under urgent medical advice.

The Lord Courtenay,
&c. &c. &c.

I have, &c.,
(signed) Richard Hall.

LETTER from the Poor Law Board to Richard Hall, Esq.

Sir,

Poor Law Board, Whitehall,
4 December 1856.

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 2d instant, communicating to them your resignation of the office of one of their Inspectors, in consequence of the impaired state of your health.

The Board desire me to express to you their sincere concern at the termination of your official connexion with this department; and, more particularly, at the cause which has rendered such a step necessary.

They are well aware of the special difficulties which, in common with some other of the then Assistant Poor Law Commissioners, you had to encounter both in Ireland and in this country, on first undertaking the duties of your late office, and they entertain a strong sense of the zeal, ability, and judgment which you displayed in overcoming many of the obstacles which naturally presented themselves in the way of the successful introduction of a new law into districts comparatively unprepared and unwilling to receive it. They think it due to you, therefore, thus to place on record the high value which they attach to the services rendered by you to the Poor Law Commission, and to this Board, during a period of nearly 22 years.

Richard Hall, Esq.
&c. &c. &c.

I have, &c.,
(signed) Courtenay, Secretary.

LETTER from the President of the Poor Law Board to the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Sir,

9 December 1856.

MR. HALL, late the Inspector under the Poor Law Board for the Metropolitan District, having resigned his office after many years of faithful and meritorious discharge of his duty as Assistant Commissioner and Inspector in the Poor Law Department, I beg to submit for your favourable consideration his claim for a retiring pension; he is compelled to resign by the state of his health, which incapacitates him for the discharge of his duty.

Mr. Hall was appointed an Assistant Poor Law Commissioner in 1835, at the commencement of the Commission, and was actively employed in the discharge of the functions of his office in various parts of England till June 1839. At that time Mr. Hall accompanied Mr. Nicholls to Ireland, where he was attached to the central office, in Dublin, and he assisted in the establishment of the Poor Law in Ireland, acting partly as Secretary and partly as Assistant Commissioner till 1843; in the course of that year Mr. Hall returned again to England, and assumed the post of Assistant Commissioner, having charge of the Metropolitan District, a charge which has continued in his hands till the present time.

Throughout the period of his public service, I have every reason to believe that Mr. Hall has distinguished himself by the ability, judgment, and skill which he has displayed in the performance of the delicate duties entrusted to him, more especially during the introduction of a new system relating to the poor, first in England, and then in Ireland; and I would submit his claim, therefore, to the Treasury, in the belief that they will be disposed to deal with it on the same grounds that they treated the case of Sir George Nicholls, when he retired from the office of Secretary to the Poor Law Board.

LETTER from the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to the Poor Law Board.

Sir,

Treasury Chambers, 14 January 1857.

WITH reference to the application of the Poor Law Board for retired allowances in favour of Mr. Hodgkin, a clerk, and Mr. Hall, lately an inspector in that department, I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to transmit herewith a copy of their Lordships' Minute of the 13th instant, sanctioning the grant of superannuation allowances to officers of the Poor Law Board, &c.; and I am to request that you will furnish my Lords with a computation showing the amount of the deductions which Mr. Hodgkin and Mr. Hall would have contributed from their salaries, had they been placed under the Act of 1834.

The Hon. E. P. Bouverie, M.P.
&c. &c. &c.

I am, &c.

COPY of TREASURY MINUTE, dated 13 January, 1857, referred to in the above Letter.

My Lords have before them applications from the Poor Law Board for Superannuation Allowances in favour of Mr. James Hodgkin, lately a clerk in the department, and of Mr. Hall, lately an inspector, both having retired on account of ill health. These papers having been referred to the Superannuation Committee, they have reported that, inasmuch as the department is not one of those embraced by the Act of 1834, they have no power to grant any pension under that Act. My Lords have, therefore, now to consider the most equitable course to pursue under these circumstances, with regard to this department and any others others to which that Act does not apply, and from the salaries of which no superannuation abatements have been deducted.

On the one hand, my Lords have reason to believe that, upon the formation of the Poor Law Board, there was some general understanding that the salaries were fixed at somewhat higher rates, from the fact that by law the recipients were not entitled to pensions; but on the other hand, adverting to the fact of a pension having been given to Mr. Nicholls, and to Mr. Chadwick, virtually as Poor Law officers, and considering the many changes which have taken place since the first formation of the Board for a limited period, all of which have given it more the character of a permanent department, my Lords have arrived at the conclusion that they cannot but recognise the right of the officers of that department to some allowance upon their retirement.

Having carefully considered the principle upon which such pensions should be fixed, my Lords have arrived at the decision that the scale fixed by the Act of 1834 should be adopted, but that the amount so arrived at should be subject to a deduction accurately calculated as the value of the deductions to which such officers would have been subjected, had they been brought under the Act of 1834: i. e., that in every case it shall be ascertained what such deductions, had they been made, would have amounted to, and that the value of such a sum, in the shape of an annuity at the age of the officer retiring, shall be ascertained from the actuary of the National Debt Office, and a deduction equivalent thereto be made from the full pension under the Act, to which such officer would have been entitled, had his salary been subject to such deduction.

LETTER from the Poor Law Board to the Lords Commissioners of
Her Majesty's Treasury.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall,
21 January 1857.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 14th instant, transmitting, with reference to the Board's application to the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, for retired allowances in favour of Mr. Hodgkin, a clerk, and Mr. Hall, lately an inspector in this department, a copy of their Lordships' Minute of the 13th instant, sanctioning the grant of superannuation allowances to officers of the Board, and requesting that their Lordships may be furnished with a computation showing the amount of the deductions which Mr. Hodgkin and Mr. Hall would have contributed from their salaries, had they been placed under the Act of 1834.

The Board have made the required computation in regard to Mr. Hodgkin and Mr. Hall, and find that the amount of the deductions which Mr. Hodgkin would have contributed from his salary, had he been placed under the Act of 1834, on entering the department, is 280*l.*; and that the amount which Mr. Hall would have contributed on his salary and allowance for personal expenses (700*l.* and 370*l.* a year), is 1,162*l.* 19*s.* 6*d.*

With respect to Mr. Hodgkin, however, I am instructed to advert to the fact, that he entered the public service before the year 1829, as shown in detail in the Board's letters of the 27th October, and 1st December last, and to submit, that having regard to the Act of 1834, no deductions whatever would have been made from Mr. Hodgkin's salary, on account of any superannuation allowance. The Board desire me, therefore, to express a hope that their Lordships will be pleased to grant a superannuation allowance to Mr. Hodgkin on the scale fixed by the Act of 1834, for persons who were in the public service before the 4th August 1829, and to treat him as an officer exempted under that Act from contributing towards such allowance.

LETTER from the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to the Poor Law Board.

Sir,

Treasury Chambers, 5 February 1857.

IN reply to Lord Courtenay's letter of the 21st ult., further respecting the cases of Mr. Hodgkin, a clerk, and Mr. Hall, an inspector under the Poor Law Board, I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to acquaint you, that, in calculating the amount of the abatements on account of superannuation which would have been paid by Mr. Hall, had the Poor Law Department been added to the schedule of the Superannuation Act, the calculation should have been made on the salary alone, and not on the allowances also. I am therefore to request that my Lords may be furnished with an amended calculation in this case, as the retired allowance can only be calculated on the salary and emoluments, which latter term is not considered to include allowances granted for the purpose of meeting special expenses attached to the office.

The President of the Poor
Law Board.

I am, &c.

LETTER from the Poor Law Board to the Lords Commissioners of
Her Majesty's Treasury.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall,
9 February 1857.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 5th instant, and before furnishing the amended calculation required by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in reference to Mr. Hall's superannuation, to bring under their Lordships' notice the fact, that the allowances made to the Poor Law Inspectors are always treated as "emoluments," in the assessments to the Income Tax, and that such allowances are of regular fixed amounts, and are made to inspectors whose duties do not require them to leave their places of abode, as well as to those who are necessarily, during a great portion of their time, engaged in travelling within their extensive districts.

The Board think it possible that their Lordships may have overlooked the facts above mentioned, and therefore desire me to submit them for their Lordships' consideration, in the belief that they afford ground for treating the allowance to Mr. Hall for personal expenses as "emoluments," to be included in the calculation to be made, in reference to his superannuation.

I have, &c.

Sir C. E. Trevelyan, K.C.B.
&c. &c. &c.

LETTER from the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to the Poor Law Board.

Gentlemen,

Treasury Chambers, 4 March 1857.

WITH reference to Mr. Grey's letter of the 9th ultimo, I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to acquaint you, that my Lords have been pleased to award an allowance of 300 £. per annum to Mr. Hodgkin, on his retirement from the office of senior clerk in your office; and that directions will be given to the Paymaster-general for the payment of that allowance, on their Lordships being informed of the date at which Mr. Hodgkin ceased to draw his salary.

With

With regard to the case of Mr. Hall, I am to observe that the rule acted upon by this Board is, that no allowances given to meet expenses incidental to the discharge of official duties shall be considered "emoluments," within the meaning of the Act.

The allowance of 370*l.* per annum enjoyed by the Poor Law inspectors appears to my Lords clearly to fall within this rule. It is stated to be an allowance for "personal expenses," and was intended to meet those necessary charges to which the inspectors are put when on their circuits.

Mr. Hall having the advantage of a station which did not require him to absent himself from home at night, was relieved from these expenses; but this was an accidental circumstance of which he has had the full benefit, and does not alter the real nature of the allowance.

The argument advanced on the ground of assessment to the Income Tax does not appear to my Lords to be entitled to any weight, as, irrespective of the conditions which attach to the allowance, it would be liable to the tax, unless it could be shown that it was expended on official duties.

Under these circumstances, the superannuation allowance of Mr. Hall can only be calculated on his actual salary of 700*l.*

I am to request that my Lords may be informed of the age of Mr. Hall.

Dear Sir,

Treasury, 23 March 1857.

IN our reply (5 February) to your letter of the 21st January last, relative to the superannuation allowance to be awarded to Mr. Hall, we requested to be informed of the amount due on account of superannuation abatements on his salary alone. The letter from your department, dated the 9th February, did not contain this information, would you therefore be good enough to let me know the amount of this sum.

My Lord,

Treasury Chambers, 30 April 1857.

WITH reference to your letter submitting the case of Mr. Hall, late Poor Law Inspector, for superannuation, I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to acquaint your Lordship, for the information of the Poor Law Commissioners, that my Lords are pleased to award a retired allowance of 176*l.* 15*s.* 8*d.* to Mr. Hall, which is the amount to which he would be entitled under the provisions of the Act 4 & 5 Will. 4, c. 24, after making the necessary deduction on account of the abatements provided by that Act in the case of all officers who entered the service subsequently to the 4th August 1829.

I am to state, that my Lords have given directions to the Paymaster-general for the payment of this allowance from the date when his salary ceased.

LETTER from the Poor Law Board to the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury.

Dear Sir,

Poor Law Board, 11 May 1857.

I BEG to state in reply to your note just received, that Mr. Hall was paid his salary as Poor Law Inspector up to the 2d of December last inclusive. His superannuation allowance will therefore begin from that day.

Lewis A. Jones, Esq.

Yours, &c.
(signed) H. Owen.

LETTER from Richard Hall, Esq., to the President of the Poor Law Board.

Sir,

Eaton-place, 13 May 1857.

I FEEL impelled to address you upon the subject of the retired allowance which the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury have been pleased to award me, hoping that you may think fit to forward my communication to their Lordships, with a recommendation that the subject may be reconsidered with reference to the statements to which I now respectfully solicit your and their Lordships' attention.

It appears by a copy of Treasury Minute, dated 13 January 1857, which you were so good as to forward to me, that the applications from the Poor Law Board for superannuation allowances in favour of Mr. James Hodgkin and myself having been referred to the Superannuation Committee, they reported to their Lordships that they have no power to grant any pension under the Act of 1834 (4 & 5 Will. 4, c. 24); and that their Lordships therefore had "to consider the most equitable course to pursue under the circumstances."

Their Lordships, then "adverting to the fact of a pension having been given to Mr. Nicholls and Mr. Chadwick, virtually as Poor Law officers;" and considering that the Poor Law Board had since its formation acquired "the character of a permanent department," arrived at the conclusion that they could "not but recognise the right of the officers of that department to some allowance upon their retirement."

Their Lordships having considered the principle upon which such pensions should be fixed, then decided "that the scale fixed by the Act of 1834 should be adopted, but that the amount so arrived at should be subject to a deduction, accurately calculated as the value of the deductions to which such officers would have been subjected, had they been brought under the Act of 1834."

In the course of the correspondence which ensued between the Lords of the Treasury and the Poor Law Board with reference to my case, their Lordships ruled that the sum of 370 l. a year, which had been added to my salary of 700 l. (as to those of the other inspectors), in lieu of the daily sum of 1 l. 1 s., previously allowed for personal expenses, could not be considered as "salary or emoluments" within the meaning of the Act of 1834; and that my pension must be calculated, not upon 1,070 l. as the Poor Law Board supposed it would be, but upon a salary of 700 l.

It has resulted from these resolutions of their Lordships, that they have awarded me a retired allowance of 176 l. 15 s. 8 d. And it is against this award that I venture most respectfully to appeal to that principle of equity to which their Lordships refer in their Minute of the 13th January, as the basis of all their proceedings in this matter.

With reference to the amount of salary and emolument on which the pension is to be computed, I would take leave to observe, 1st., that income-tax has been always paid upon the sum allowed under the denomination of personal expenses, but not upon the sum reimbursed to the inspector on account of his travelling expenses; which, I think, shows a distinction drawn between a fixed emolument, placed at the disposal of the recipient, to be laid out by him in defraying personal expenses, or otherwise, at his will, and an uncertain sum, paid from time to time, to reimburse to the inspector an outlay previously incurred. 2^d. The commutation of the daily allowance of 1 l. 1 s. into a fixed annual payment of 370 l., which the inspector receives, without any abatement on occasional absences from his district, and without reference to the amount of personal expense which he incurs while on duty in it, was the expression of an opinion long entertained, that the allowance never was in fact distinguishable from salary, and that the nominal distinction was inconvenient and useless. I would submit, then, that the salary of an inspector is and has been really 1,070 l. a year.

With reference to the diminution of the pension by subtracting a sum in the shape of an annuity equivalent to that which I should have paid in deductions, had I been subjected to the provision of the Act of 1834, I would, with much respect, allege that no such subtraction was made from the pensions granted to Mr. Nicholls and Mr. Chadwick, whose cases are adduced as precedents by the Lords of the Treasury; nor, as it appears, from the retired allowances awarded to the Poor Law Inspectors and other officers connected with the administration of the relief of the poor in Ireland, upon their retirement from the Commission in 1855.

I would earnestly solicit the attention of their Lordships to the cases of the Irish inspectors (especially to the case of Colonel Clarke), as nearly resembling my own in point of claim, but contrasting strongly with my case in point of amount amount of pension. I copy from a Return to an order of the Honourable the House of Commons, dated 18 May 1855, the following Table, adding at the foot the particulars of my own case :—

N A M E.	Salary.	Number of Years' Service.	Compensation or Allowance Per Annum.	Clause of Act under which Compensation was calculated, or Authority by which it was granted.
	£.		£. s. d.
Joseph Burke - - - -	700	15	400 - -	These compensation allowances were granted by the authority of the Treasury, subject to the provisions of the 19th clause of the Act 4 & 5 Will. 4, c. 24.
Denis Phelan - - - -	700	16	400 - -
Pierse M. Barron - - -	700	7	300 - -
George Huband - - - -	700	7	300 - -
Richard M. Lynch - - -	700	8	300 - -
William A. Clarke - - -	500	8	330 - -
Thomas Dillon, M.D. - -	500	3	250 - -
Richard Hall - - - -	700	21	176 15 8

Now, Sir, observe the particulars of my case subjoined to this Table, and contrast my years of service, and amount of retired allowance, with those of the other inspectors. I own I am at a loss to understand the difference which such comparison exhibits, for surely it is not sufficiently accounted for by the circumstance (really immaterial to the recipients of the pension) that it was not intended to fill up the vacancies caused by the retirement of those officers from the Irish Department, which had been increased to meet local difficulties consequent upon a temporary calamity, at that time happily removed.

I have mentioned especially the case of Colonel Clarke, in which the resemblance and the contrast to my own are still more striking than in the others; it is contained in a return to an order of the Honourable the House of Commons, dated the 9th July 1855. Colonel Clarke being an inspector in the service of the Commission, represented to the Commissioners that his health was most seriously, and he feared permanently, impaired in consequence of exposure to wet and cold, while travelling on the public service, and on that ground he requested to be included in the list of inspectors selected for retirement.

The Poor Law Commissioners, in acquainting the Lords of the Treasury with this communication, stated, that upon full consideration they were prepared to reduce the number of inspectors to 10, and therefore requested that Colonel Clarke's name might be added to the number of those selected to retire, as already reported to their Lordships; and they recommended Colonel Clarke's case to their favourable consideration. Colonel Clarke's period of service was $7\frac{1}{2}$ years, his salary had been 500*l.*, and their Lordships awarded him a retired allowance of 330*l.*, observing that "their Lordships felt themselves justified in awarding to him a higher amount of allowance than they otherwise would have done, in the consideration of the serious injury to his health, occasioned by the nature of his duties."

Now, I would beg you, sir, to place the particulars of my case in juxtaposition with those of Colonel Clarke's case. Colonel Clarke resigns his office upon the ground of the serious injury to his health occasioned by the nature of his duties.

I resign mine upon precisely the same grounds, under the urgent advice of Dr. Watson and Mr. Wotton (the medical gentleman who has attended me for some years) and with the concurrence of Sir Benjamin Brodie.

Colonel Clarke's period of service was $7\frac{1}{2}$ years—Mine was $21\frac{1}{2}$ years.

Colonel Clarke's salary was 500*l.*—Mine was 700*l.*

Colonel Clarke's retired allowance is 330*l.*—Mine is 176*l.* 15*s.* 8*d.*

Colonel Clarke has an addition made to his allowance in consequence of the state of his health—I have none.

Colonel Clarke is awarded the amount (minus about 7*l.*) of the retired allowance which, under the Act of 1834, corresponds to a service of 45 years

(the highest allowance of which the Act admits), his actual service having been $7\frac{1}{2}$ years—I am awarded (within a fraction) the allowance which may be claimed for a service of 10 years (the lowest which the Act provides), my actual service having been $21\frac{1}{2}$ years. I may add that Mr. Burke and Mr. Phelan receive (within 9 l.) the retired allowance corresponding to a service of 38 years, their actual service being 16 years. Mr. Barron, Mr. Huband, and Mr. Lynch receive more than the allowance which can be claimed under the Act for 24 years' service, their actual service having been $7\frac{1}{2}$ years; Dr. Dillon, a medical inspector, having served for $3\frac{1}{2}$ years, with a salary of 500 l., receives, as retired allowance, 250 l., the proportion allotted by the Act for a service of at least 31 years.

I disclaim most emphatically any intention to depreciate the public services which have been rendered by the gentlemen whose names I have taken the liberty of mentioning in this letter, still less would I venture to impugn the awards of pension which have been made to them; on the contrary, I am quite willing to believe that they deserve, and are entitled to, the pensions which they enjoy; but I cannot help feeling that a discretionary power, vested in the Lords of the Treasury (I suppose by the 17th and 24th sections of the Act of 1834) has been exercised by their Lordships to the great advantage of Sir G. Nicholls, Mr. Chadwick, and of the officers who have retired from the Poor Law Commission in Ireland, while the beneficial exercise of the same discretion has been withheld from me; and I would again, with the utmost respect, urge upon their Lordships a reconsideration of my case with reference to the facts I have just stated, and to the points which are mentioned in the 24th section of the Act, as those which it is expedient that their Lordships should consider in such cases, namely, health, age, and meritorious services.

As regards my health, it has been seriously impaired by anxiety and hard work in the discharge of my duties.

As regards my age, I am older than two of the Irish inspectors to whose cases I have referred, and not much younger than others.

As regards meritorious services, I need offer no other testimonials than the letter which the Poor Law Board wrote to the Lords of the Treasury on my behalf in 1854, when Mr. Baines was president, and the letter which the Board addressed to me in December last, upon the occasion of my resignation. I transcribe here an extract from the earlier letter, and the whole of the recent one [The letter here referred to is set out on the first page]:—

“EXTRACT from a LETTER addressed by the Poor Law Board to the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, dated 5th April 1854.

“The Board, having regard to the very important public services rendered by Mr. Hall during a period of 19 years, feel themselves bound to grant him the extended leave of absence now applied for, in the hope that it may be the means of restoring him to health, and enabling him to resume his official duties.

“Mr. Hall was appointed an Assistant Poor Law Commissioner in March 1835. The high abilities, the soundness of judgment, and the great tact which uniformly characterised the discharge of his official duties, led Mr. Nicholls to associate Mr. Hall with him at the Poor Law Office in Ireland, where he continued from June 1839 to May 1843, rendering most efficient aid in the establishment of a Poor Law in that country.

“The same valuable qualities induced the Poor Law Commissioners to place Mr. Hall in the charge of the Metropolitan District (one of the most important of the English districts) on the appointment of Mr. Twisleton, in 1843, to be a Commissioner.

“Mr. Hall superintended this district from that time till the commencement of his present leave of absence, with great advantage to the public service.”

I now leave the matter in your hands, only adding a sincere apology for troubling you at such length.

LETTER from the President of the Poor Law Board to the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall,
16 May 1857.

My Lords,

I HAVE the honour to forward herewith, for your Lordships' perusal, the enclosed communication which I have received from Mr. Richard Hall, late Poor Law Inspector, on the subject of the retired allowance which your Lordships have been pleased to award him; and I have to request that your Lordships will give a favourable consideration to the statements contained in the enclosed communication.

The Lords Commissioners of
Her Majesty's Treasury.

I have, &c.
(signed) E. P. Bouverie.

LETTER from the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to the President of the Poor Law Board.

Sir,

Treasury Chambers, 28 May 1857.

WITH reference to your letter of the 16th instant, forwarding a memorial from Mr. Hall, late Poor Law Inspector, praying for a reconsideration of his case with reference to his retired allowance, I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to inform you that my Lords fully explained, in their letter of the 4th March 1857, the reasons which governed their decision that Mr. Hall's allowance of 370*l.* per annum could not be included in the calculation on which his retired allowance was based; and their Lordships are not, on reconsideration of the case, prepared to alter that decision.

My Lords consider that, in the award which they have made to Mr. Hall, they have dealt with his case in the only manner which was properly open to them.

Mr. Hall was perfectly aware, when he accepted his appointment, that he would have no claim to any allowance on retirement. Had my Lords, therefore, thought fit to refuse him any such allowance, he could have no just ground of complaint.

Their Lordships, however, under all the circumstances of his case, felt justified in awarding him some allowance in recognition of his past services; but they were bound, in doing so, to consider the position which Mr. Hall occupied with reference to other public servants whose claims to superannuation were undeniable, and who had been compelled during the whole period of their service to pay the requisite abatements.

Their Lordships accordingly, whilst giving Mr. Hall the full benefit of the scale which the Superannuation Act allowed for his period of service, at the same time made the deduction which, in common fairness, it was their duty to make, in consideration of the non-payment of superannuation abatements.

It will be observed that, even now, Mr. Hall has an advantage over the ordinary civil servants, in not having been called upon to make this payment until he had secured the benefit which the Act provides, subject to this condition.

With regard to the cases quoted by Mr. Hall as precedents in his favour, my Lords cannot admit the analogy which he endeavours to establish.

In all these cases the parties retired on the abolition of their offices, or to facilitate arrangements for the economy and advantage of the public service.

It has always been the practice to deal with such cases in a manner different to that observed on the occasion of retirements in the ordinary course of service, the Act of Superannuation having made no provision for such cases, but having left in the hands of the Government the power, which it had always exercised, of dealing with them specially, subject to the approval of Parliament.

Right Hon. E. P. Bouverie, M. P.,

BURY UNION (WORKHOUSE CEMETERY).

RETURN to an Order of the Honourable The House of Commons,
dated 18 August 1857;—for,

COPY “of CORRESPONDENCE between the Poor Law Board and the Guardians of the Bury Union, on the Subject of a WORKHOUSE CEMETERY for that Borough” [Union].

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, }

R. W. GREY,
Secretary.

LETTER from the Guardians of the Bury Union to the Poor Law Board.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Bury, 12 February 1857.

THE guardians intend to appropriate the plot of land coloured brown on the accompanying sketch for a burial-ground, and will, as soon as it can be prepared and fenced off, have it consecrated and set apart for that purpose. They wish to ascertain whether in the meantime, and previous to consecration, they can use it as a cemetery for inmates dying in the workhouse, and not claimed by relatives.

LETTER from the Poor Law Board to the Guardians of the Bury Union.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall,
2 March 1857.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 12th ultimo, in which you state that the guardians of the Bury Union intend to appropriate a plot of ground for the purposes of a cemetery; and you inquire whether paupers dying in the workhouse, and not claimed by relatives, can be buried in such cemetery previously to its consecration.

The Board in reply direct me to state that they have been advised, that in the case of a pauper dying in a union workhouse situated in the parish of A., but chargeable to the parish of B., in the same union, the guardians cannot (either under the 7 & 8 Vict. c. 101, s. 31, or at common law) insist upon the burial taking place in the parish of A., in which the workhouse is locally situated, but that such pauper must be buried (under the 7 & 8 Vict. c. 101, ss. 56 and 31) in the parish of his chargeability in which the workhouse is constructively situated, and in which the death must therefore be held to have occurred.

In accordance with this view, the Board apprehend that the paupers who die in the Bury Union Workhouse, chargeable to any township in the union other than Radcliffe, in which the workhouse appears to be locally situated, cannot be buried by the guardians in the contemplated burial-ground in the township of Radcliffe, but that they must be respectively interred in the parish of their chargeability.

The Board request to be informed what class of paupers the guardians contemplate burying in the proposed burial-ground, and whether they have taken any, and if so, what steps with a view to its consecration.

The Board are also desirous of being informed of the exact distance of the proposed cemetery from the nearest part of the workhouse, and also from the lodge and chapel.

I am, &c.

Secretary.

W. P. Woodcock, Esq.

LETTER from the Guardians of the Bury Union to the Poor Law Board.

My Lords and Gentlemen, Bury, 3 March 1857.

IN answer to your letter of the 2d instant, I have to state that the guardians contemplate burying in the proposed burial-ground all those paupers who have no relations, or whose relations care nothing about them.

I beg to refer the Poor Law Board to the plan sent in my letter of the 12th ultimo, where the new workhouse, the lodge, the chapel, and the burial-ground are all laid down, and a scale of feet given.

This is our new workhouse, and not the Radcliffe workhouse.

I have, &c.

LETTER from the Poor Law Board to the Guardians of the Bury Union.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall,
14 March 1857.

Sir,

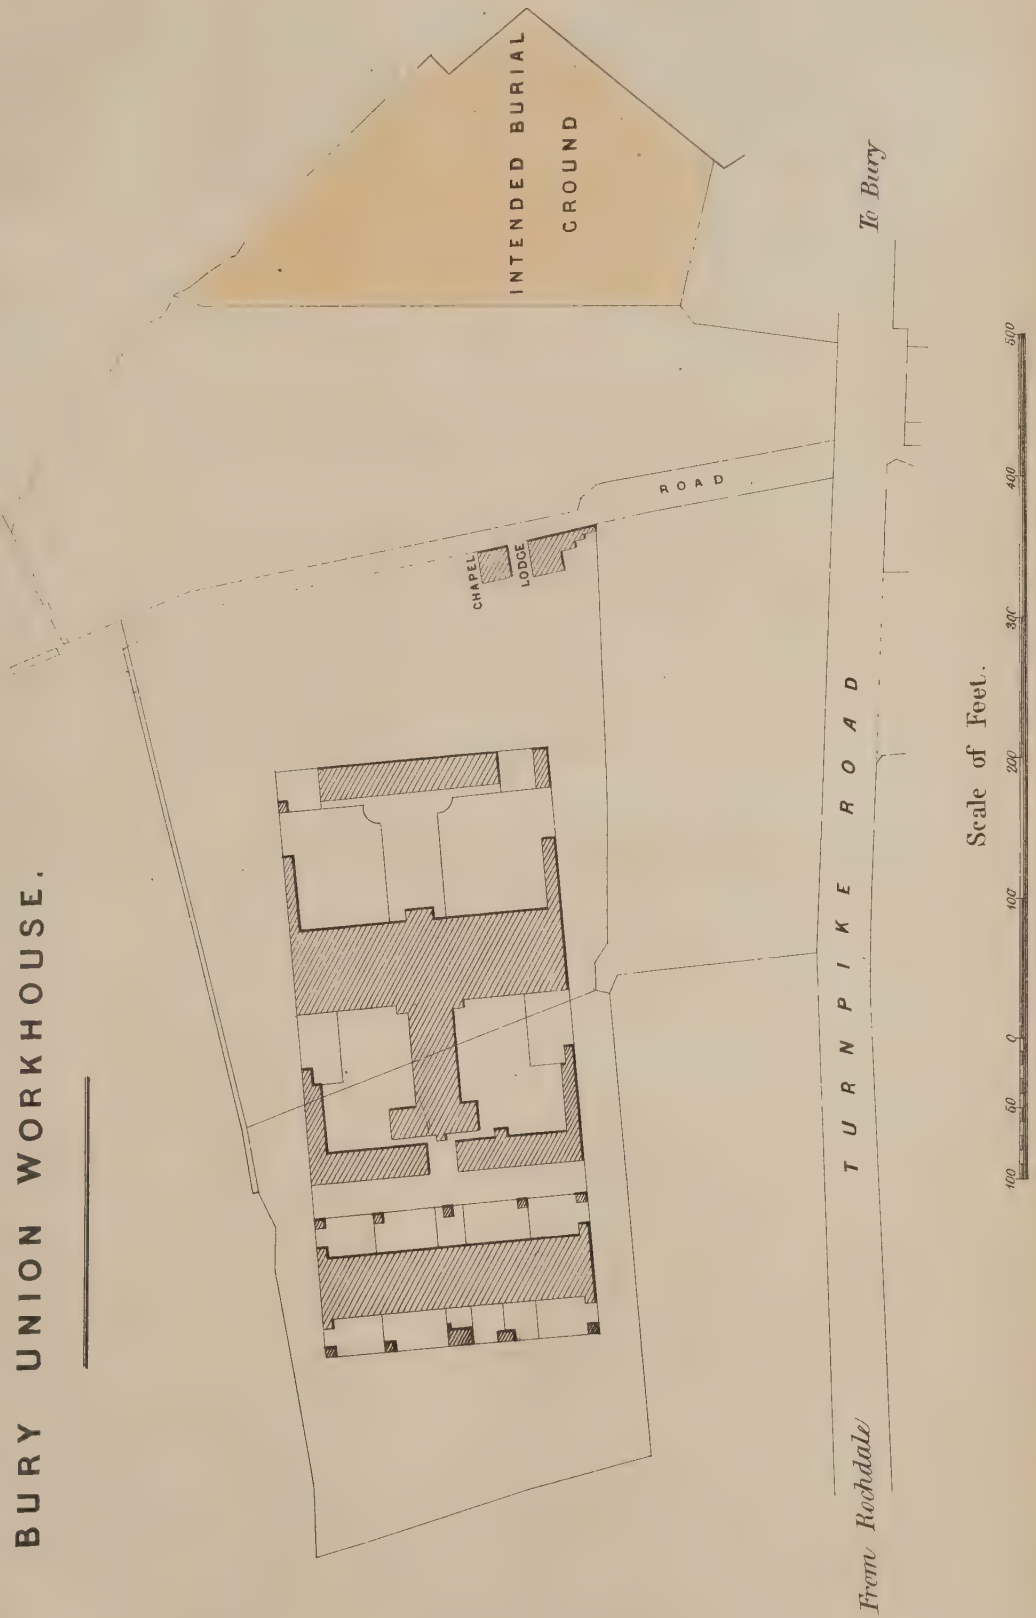

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 3d instant, stating that the guardians of the Bury Union contemplate burying in the proposed burial-ground all those paupers who have no relations, or whose relations care nothing for them.

The Board desire to state that there is no legal authority for the guardians burying the body of a pauper in unconsecrated ground, except in cases where the deceased, or the husband, or next of kin of the deceased shall have so desired (see 7 & 8 Vict. c. 101, s. 31); and, consequently, the guardians cannot carry their proposal into effect according to the terms of your letter, as applying to the class of poor whom you describe.

I am, &c.
(signed) Courtenay,
Secretary.

BURY UNION WORKHOUSE.

LETTER from the Poor Law Board to the Guardians of the Bury Union.

Sir,

Poor Law Board, Whitehall,

11 April 1857.

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board, with reference to the letter which they addressed to you on the 14th ultimo, to state that they have had under their consideration the proposal of the guardians of the Bury Union to appropriate a plot of land near the new workhouse to the purposes of a burial-ground.

The Board now direct me to state that they sanction the appropriation of the land to the purpose in question.

I am, &c.
